GERMANS RENEW ATTACK IN SOMME SECTOR

CANAL MOUTH BLOCKED; GREAT DAMAGE DONE AT ZEBRUGGE

British Also Destroyed Guns on Mole and Blew Up Munitions at U-Boat Base, London Paper Says.

GERMANS THOUGHT "YANKEES" HAD COME

Attacking Forces Reached Harbor and Landed Men in Face of Terrific Hail of Shells From Shore

LONDON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Not only was the mouth of the canal at Zeebrugge blocked, but British sailors and marines who participated in the raid on the German submarine bases believe that they destroyed every gun on the mole, demolished the sheds throughout its entire length and blew up large stores of munitions contained in the sheds, according to stories given by the survivors to the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle at a Kentish port.

Until they were within a half mile of the harbor on Zeebrugge no ships in the attacking force had picked up the light on the mole. The attacking ship, which started for the mole followed by muttered calls of "good fuck" from the ships' companies of the escorting fleet outside the harbor, had scarcely got within sight of the light when it was discovered by the Germans. Star shells instantly pierced the thick haze, showing up the cruiser as clearly as though it had been daylight.

Greeted by Rain of Shells.

In one second it seemed as if every battery in every neighborhood had concentrated its fire on the cruiser. How she was able to get ahead none of those watching her understood. Great 17-inch shells and others of smaller caliber flew around her like hail. She was apparently hit by some of the smaller ones, but she plugged ahead and was seen to turn the corner of the mole and gain the inside of the harbor. The German fire apparently was deflected from her vital parts by the intervening structure of the mole and most of the damage was done above the water line.

Disregarding all that had happened, the cruiser went up to the mole and landed a large party of blue jackets and marines. The German defenders conceived the idea that their assailants were Americans and, according to some of the survivors, this cry was heard:

"It's the Americans! It's the Yankees!"

Some of the Germans bolted en masse from the nearest batteries, leaving their guns to the British. The guns were destroyed one by one, while others in the landing party dealt with the sheds and munitions stores with flame throwers.

Apparently under cover of this operation, continues the account sent by the Daily Chronicle's correspondent, the concrete-laden cruisers, with which it was intended to block the channels, made their way through the harbor, accompanied, as far as it can be ascertained, by only one submarine. As they approached the entrance, they anchored, swung around on the cables and, according to the testimony of one of the observers, were sunk within 23 minutes.

Locks Believed Destroyed.

One of the destroyers or submarines exploded a charge at the gates of the lock to the Bruges canal and they are believed to have been destroyed. Meanwhile four destroyers entered the harbor and cruised around making observations, but were unable to take part in the battle.

When the attacking ship and its landing party had completed their work, the sailors and marines were taken aboard again despite the damaged condition of the cruiser, which then began to make its way out of the harbor.

One of the 17-inch shells out of the hundreds of various calibers fired at the cruiser got well home in her upper works. Her steering gear was injured and she signalled an escort ship to show her the way out, but before help arrived she had found her way out and taken her

KAISER HINTS AT ACTIVITY OF GERMAN NAVY SOON

Naval Bases Also Busy, According to a Report From The Hague.

LONDON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Reports of intense activity at German naval bases, says a Daily Mail dispatch from The Hague, are connected in some circles with an address Emperor William made to submarine commanders in Flanders. During his speech the Emperor said:

"The activities of the submarines, together with our victorious armies and fleet are calculated to bring us a strong German peace. I am convinced that, the united strength of these three weapons will in a comparatively short period make our opponents, who are still bent on destroying Germany's strong and free future, ready to accept an equitable peace."

WILSON OPPOSES WAR ON TURKEY AND BULGARIA

President Indicates Definite Stand on Senate Proposal for Declaration Against Two Countries.

SENATOR KING NOT TO PUSH MATTER NOW

Meets President in Conference Following Debate on Brandegee Resolution in Senate Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Definite opposition to a declaration of war on Bulgaria and Turkey at this time was indicated by President Wilson today at a conference with Senator King of Utah, who recently introduced a resolution calling for war with both countries.

Senator King sought the President's views as a result of debate in the Senate yesterday on a resolution by Senator Brandegee of Connecticut asking the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for immediate action on the King resolution.

Senator King announced after the conference that he would not press his resolution at this time.

The Brandegee resolution was laid aside yesterday after the debate, although several Senators announced they were willing to vote for a war declaration.

Senator King declined to discuss the President's views, but from other Senators it was learned that the President was ready to present his information to the Senate with his reasons for opposing present action. Arrangements were made for members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee soon to call upon the President.

Considerations of diplomacy and safety of Americans in Bulgaria and Turkey, particularly the latter, are understood to have prompted the President's decision. There is reason to hope, it was said, that both Turkey and Bulgaria may yet drop out as belligerents. The administration was reported to have information that if it were possible, Turkey, as well as Bulgaria, would be glad to take advantage of an opportunity to break away from the Central Powers. Many Americans also remain in the two countries, and difficulty has been encountered in inducing Americans in Turkey connected with religious missions to leave.

In view of these considerations, Senators were advised that the President believes the technical advantage of formal declarations of war with Turkey and Bulgaria would not outweigh the advantages which may later possibly accrue to the allies.

So earnest was the President reported in his opposition to declarations of war that he was said to be ready to give his reasons by personal appearance either before the Senate in executive session or the Foreign Relations Committee. The President was said to be opposed, however, to making public the information and the arrangements therefore were made for the committee to call on him.

After the Senators were informed of the situation, it was said that none of the resolutions having to do with the matter would be pressed in the Senate or in the committee.

MOTOR TRANSPORT SERVICE CREATED BY WAR DEPARTMENT

New Service Under General Officer to Replace Motor Division of Quartermaster Corps.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—A motor transport service was created today by the War Department to take the place of the Motor Division of the Quartermaster Corps.

The service will be headed by a general officer, as yet unnamed, who will serve as an assistant to the Quartermaster-General.

The new service will consolidate the procurement and operation of all army motor vehicles except tanks, caterpillars and artillery tractors. A special board of officers is working out details for operation by the service of all classes of trucks, ambulances and motor cars.

The object is to eliminate duplication in the purchase, operation and maintenance of motor vehicles. Each arm of the service having use for motor transportation will be represented in the new service.

The motors division has been headed by Brigadier-General Chauncey M. Baker, who, it is understood, will revert to his regular army rank as a Colonel of the Quartermaster Corps.

70 WORKERS ON STRIKE AT ST. LOUIS COFFIN CO. FACTORY

Men of Concern of Which Gov. Gardner is President Say They Will Put Grievances Before Him.

Forty-five sheet metal workers and 25 upholsterers are on strike at the factory of the St. Louis Coffin Co., 1821 Chouteau avenue, demanding a nine-hour day and increased pay. Gov. Gardner is president of the company, and the strikers announced this afternoon that they would try to get in touch with him by long-distance telephone or otherwise, in the endeavor to get him to bring about a settlement.

At the factory, 1821 Chouteau avenue, J. J. Sloan, secretary of the company, refused this afternoon to give any information as to the strike or to admit that there was a strike. At the Mound Coffin Co., 2000 North Second street, it was admitted that some upholsterers had quit work, but no details were given.

Bruno Sendlein, national organizer for the Upholsterers and Trimmers' International Union of North America, said the St. Louis Coffin Co. employes were working 10 hours a day and that the upholsterers average about $21 a week and the metal workers $18. They are demanding a nine-hour day for all, and a wage scale running up to 42½ cents an hour for upholsterers, with 30 to 40 cents for metal workers, 35 cents for steamers and 25 cents for truckers. A meeting will be held tonight at the Carpenters' Hall, 3024 Olive street.

INSURANCE MAN KILLED WHILE SELLING ACCIDENT POLICIES

Former Switchman, Run Down by Train, Had Lost Arm in Previous Accident.

Michael Clavin, 55 years old, of 1329 North Eleventh street, East St. Louis, an insurance salesman, died last night at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, of injuries he received when he was run down by a switch engine in the afternoon in the City Four yards. He was on his way to see switchmen about selling them accident insurance.

In 1890 Clavin lost his left arm when he was run down by a train. He was then employed as a switchman.

U. S. LETS CONTRACTS FOR 22 MORE STEEL FREIGHTERS

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Contracts for 22 steel freighters of a total of 204,500 tonnage were let today by the Emergency Fleet Corporation. The ships will be built at San Francisco and Wilmington, N. C.

ST. LOUIS' TOTAL OF BOND SALES NOW $23,973,000

Subscriptions in City Have Reached 61 Per Cent of Its Quota of $39,107,350; New $250,000 Sale.

DISTRICT'S TOTAL NOW $132,916,150

Total Is Nearly $3,000,000 More Than the Goal Set; Bernhardt Appearance Postponed to Friday.

The St. Louis total of subscriptions to Third Liberty Loan bonds today reached 61 per cent of the city's quota, the total announced shortly before noon being $23,973,600. This is an increase of $1,520,450 over yesterday's figures. The St. Louis quota is $39,107,350.

The total sales in the Eighth (St. Louis) Federal Reserve District, according to yesterday's figures, was then $132,916,150, or nearly $3,000,000 more than the district's quota. These figures, and the quota, include St. Louis. When both the St. Louis part of the quota and the St. Louis subscriptions are deducted, the rest of the district is shown to have subscribed more than 120 per cent of its part of the quota.

Bernhardt Appearance.

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt will take a leading part in the public celebration of Friday, designated by the President as "Liberty Day." She was to appear in Twelfth street today, but because of rain, this program was deferred until Friday, when it will be carried out on a more elaborate scale. The Jefferson Barracks Band will take part in the ceremonies, which will center about the statue, "America Defending Civilization."

The activities of the day will be in the practical way of selling bonds, rather than in general demonstrations. The biggest possible celebration, in the opinion of the local Liberty Loan organization, was the one held April 7.

Banks are now making deliveries of the Third Liberty Loan Bonds to subscribers.

Subscriptions announced this morning were those of the Hudson-Phillips Motor Car Co., 10,000; Meisheimer Restaurant Co., $5100; pupils Central High School, $76,550; members Zion Evangelical Lutheran Congregation, $58,500.

U. R. Employes Subscribe.

The United Railways announced that 3330 employes in the transportation department, mostly motormen and conductors, had purchased bonds of the Third Liberty loan, the approximate total being $175,000.

Three employes who refused yesterday to buy bonds, and make the department 100 per cent investors, were not allowed to go to work today because of objections by other employes.

The 2000 men employed in the shops, linemen and other departments, have not yet finished their drive. The campaigns are being conducted by the same committee that had charge of the Red Cross drive. The company is carrying many of the men's subscriptions for them, at as low as $1 down and $1 a week for a $50 bond.

Subscription for $250,000.

The Certain-Teed Products Corporation, formerly the General Roofing Co., has subscribed for $250,000 worth of bonds. George M. Brown, president of the company, in a letter to N. A. McMillan of the St. Louis Union Bank, said he had hoped it would not be necessary for the company to make a subscription at this time, because of the heavy taxes it must pay shortly, but that as St. Louis has not reached its quota, the company wishes to do its part. He says he hopes others will take the same view.

Three cities in the St. Louis Federal Reserve District—Louisville, Evansville and Little Rock, have exceeded their quotas. Louisville, with a quota of $7,941,850, has sold $10,512,350 of bonds. Evansville, with a quota of $2,944,800, has sold $3,744,000. Little Rock, with a quota of $2,863,750, has sold $2,849,750.

Memphis, on the other hand, has attained only about the same percentage as St. Louis. The Memphis quota is $6,592,450, and sales have been $3,750,000.

The success of the bond campaign in Calhoun, Washington and Monroe Counties, Ill., has attracted attention. These counties are agricultural and have many people of German descent. Calhoun is the only county in Illinois without a rail-

Many Instances of Individual Gallantry in Seicheprey Fight

Nineteen-Year-Old Connecticut Boy, Twice Partly Buried by Shells but Stuck to Task.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Tuesday, April 23 (By A. P.).—The shell-torn village of Seicheprey, around which centered the hardest fighting in connection with the German attacks on last Saturday, appears to be destined to hold a proud place in the history of American participation in the world war.

The correspondent is now permitted to tell of a few cases of individual heroism, which will convey an idea as to the mettle of the men. One of them, David Griggs of East Hampton, Conn., passed through the enemy barrage at least seven times to carry ammunition to his hard-pressed comrades. Twice he was partly buried by earth upturned by shells falling all around him, but he kept at his task. Griggs, who is 19 years old, would not tell his story, but insisted on speaking of the bravery of others.

Twice Blown Off Road.

Raymond A. Ferris of Medford, Mass., acting as a courier, was blown off the road twice by the concussion of shells. Although stunned and nearly crazed by the intensity of the gunfire when he reached the point in the rear of the lines to which he was sent for ammunition, he carried out his orders. Then he asked for a revolver, saying he wanted to go out and fight the Germans, but he fainted from exhaustion. When he regained consciousness his first words were an inquiry whether his message had been delivered.

Salvation Army Heroines.

In a village a short distance behind the front lines Gladys and Irene McIntyre, sisters, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., Salvation Army representatives, during the height of the engagement, handed out to the soldiers coffee, chocolate, doughnuts and much good cheer. They went on with their work while the shells were falling nearer and nearer would not leave until at last they were ordered to do so.

"Wonderful Boys."

At another point near the front a middle-aged motherly woman, also of the Salvation Army, is braving the German shells to dispense comforts to the men.

"I had to come to France," she said, "to find out what wonderful boys we raise in America."

Gas shells continued to fall along the American front northwest of Toul today, but, generally speaking, the artillery fire was lighter than usual. There was a slight increase, however, in rifle and machine gun fire against the American positions around Seicheprey.

This admiration for the fighting qualities of his transatlantic comrades is demonstrated in a report forwarded to the General commanding by the Colonel of a French infantry regiment which took part in the Seicheprey engagement.

"I visited Renneres wood after the counter attack in which the position was recaptured and examined the situation in detail," says the report. "Everywhere traces of hand-to-hand fighting show that the American soldiers, despite two hours of heavy bombardment by large caliber guns, defended themselves valiantly.

"In the vicinity between the front trenches and the communication trench connecting the Jury and Renneres woods, two American machine gunners died fighting on their weapons after covering the ground around with German dead. The enemy suffered great losses, thanks to this heroic resistance.

"Everywhere there are signs of German wounded having been carried off, while many German bodies remain, because the retiring enemy was unable to remove them. Numbers of the dead belong to German storming detachments."

Cut Off but Fought On.

The French soldiers who joined in the fight declare that the Americans displayed a splendid spirit of combat. They relate that north of Seicheprey an American detachment was separated into small groups and was cut off from the company to which it belonged throughout the entire fight.

Behind the Americans and on their left flank were German units, but they could have retired on the right. However, they decided to stop and fight, which they did with wonderful valor, notwithstanding the incessant enemy bombardment and rifle fire.

Numerous hand-to-hand combats were fought in the course of the long struggle from which the Americans found themselves obliged to retire toward nightfall, but only after destroying their machine guns.

In Seicheprey a squad of Americans found several cases of grenades with which they succeeded in putting up a terrific fight and holding out the entire day on the northern extremity of the village. They refused to surrender when summoned to do so and at the end of the fighting only nine out of the original 23 were left. A cook, surprised by the Germans and half stunned by a blow from a grenade, seized a rifle and continued firing until he fell dead.

Hospital Blown Up.

Toward evening a hospital which had been established in Seicheprey was blown up along with the doctors and ambulance men. The chief surgeon of the American regiment engaged hurried to the spot with French and American ambulance cars as soon as he learned of the occurrence. The rescue party passed through a severe barrage fire but eventually reached the village where they tended to the wounded for many hours under a heavy enemy fire.

An American Lieutenant with only six men patrolled 600 yards of the front during the entire day and maintained communication with the battalions on his right and left. Many other incidents of bravery were recorded by the French.

VISCOUNT MOTONO, JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTER, RESIGNS

Question of Intervention in Siberia Probably Led to His Withdrawal.

LONDON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Viscount Motono, Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs, has resigned, according to a Reuter dispatch from Tokio.

Viscount Motono will be succeeded by Baron Goto, who has held several portfolios and is a member of the national commission appointed last year for the discussion of Japan's foreign policy.

The question of Japanese intervention in Siberia probably led to the withdrawal of Viscount Ichiro Motono from the Foreign Ministry, of which he has been the head since November, 1916, when Count Terauchi formed the present Cabinet. There have been reports recently that Viscount Motono might resign in connection with the Siberian situation, but explanations of such a possibility were scanty.

Viscount Motono, who was given his present title in July, 1916, was Japanese Ambassador to Russia previous to his elevation to the Foreign Ministry. Since his graduation from the University of Lyons, France, he has been connected with the Japanese Foreign Office and has served as Minister to Belgium and Minister to France.

GIRL FOUND IN EAST ST. LOUIS GAGGED AND WITH HANDS TIED

Says She Remembers Auto Ride After She and Another Girl Met Two Young Men.

Lilian Brooks, 16 years old, 3300 Market street, East St. Louis, was found with her hands bound and her mouth gagged on Thirty-sixth street, between Missouri avenue and State street, East St. Louis, at 9:30 o'clock last night, by two farmers passing in an automobile.

She told the police that she had quit her work in a St. Louis department store at noon with a girl she knew only as "Dorothy" and had started for home. She said that at the west approach to Eads Bridge two young men, about 20 years old, whom Dorothy said she knew, insisted on taking them home. Miss Brooks said she remembered riding about in an automobile.

TO NAME LABOR ADMINISTRATOR

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—A national Labor Administrator to have charge of all labor problems involved in the production of war supplies will be named by President Wilson. Duties now performed by various labor bureaus in the Government departments which have to do with war materials production will be taken over and coordinated by the new officer.

The plan is a part of the general program for centralizing labor control as contemplated in the reorganization the Department of Labor is now undergoing. The Labor Administrator will assume some of the work now done by the Department of Labor and work in co-operation with the Labor Board, headed by former President Taft and Frank P. Walsh.

GERMANS CLAIM SUPERIORITY OF 480,000 MEN ON WEST FRONT

Asserted That Number of Americans Opposing Them Is Calculated to Surprise Teutons.

LONDON, April 24 (Special Cable.).—The Germans claim to have more than 40 divisions (480,000 men) on the western front above the total of the allies, though the allies' total is a military secret about which the German high command can only conjecture. That a further offensive is impending is accepted as evident from the German dispositions.

That American troops in a number perhaps calculated to surprise the Germans will be met with in the next big battle, is pretty certain. British officers in high positions are loud in their praises of the men of America's new armies, for, of course, the excellence of the American regulars was taken for granted, and they were found to exceed anything expected of them in their hardness and adaptability to the new species of warfare.

The bridgading of American units with allied troops was naturally a somewhat delicate operation, as all the great armies prefer to fight their own way, but the spirit of the Americans in recognizing the desirability of this arrangement has been amazingly fine, and they are working with the finest good feeling toward their allies.

120,000 BRITISH PRISONERS TAKEN, GERMANS CLAIM

Kaiser's War Minister Tells Reichstag Committee Great Victory Has Been Gained on West Front.

SAYS BRITISH ARE AGAIN ENTRENCHED

Gen. Von Stein Also Asserts Many Guns Were Captured and That Teuton Losses Were Light.

AMSTERDAM, April 24 (By A. P.).—At a meeting of the main committee of the German Reichstag, which was discussing army estimates, War Minister von Stein made a statement on the western offensive in which he paid tribute to what he termed the splendid performances of the German troops.

"Our officers," said Lieutenant-General von Stein, "once again have proved their well-tried faithfulness unto death." The War Minister said that some detachments had lost two-thirds of their company leaders.

"Our losses have been quite normal and in some cases remarkably small," he continued. "They are mainly attributable to infantry and machine-gun fire and a great number of the wounded already have been sent back to the front, thanks to the devoted activity of our medical officers.

Regarded as Great Victory.

"Our successes in the west are to be regarded as a great victory. From southwest of Arras to Lafers we broke through the English position to a depth of 60 kilometers. About 100,000 prisoners and 1500 guns were our booty there.

"Afterward we drove the French from strong positions across the Oisne-Aisne Canal and beat the English again in battle at Armentieres, capturing more than 20,000 prisoners and 250 guns."

After an allusion to the long-range bombardment of Paris, the Minister described the difficulties of rapidly pursuing an army.

He said shelters were no longer available in destroyed places and that the roads and paths were impassable. Nevertheless a substantial service was successfully established owing to the large quantity of supplies of the British which fell into German hands.

Says Battle Must Continue.

"Through these battles we, in general, have attained those lines on which the enemy formerly stood. He has again found vantage point of which he has made use. In order to overcome these a continuation of the battle is necessary for the campaign which is proceeding.

"The service corps and labor battalions also have had an honorable share in the success. The campaign is still in full swing. Relying on the chief army command we must patiently await what further successes will be granted us.

"In Finland and the Ukraine the operations are following their ordered course. On the Italian and Macedonia battle fronts the situation is unchanged. Considerable numbers of the enemy are being held in check there.

"On the Caucasus front our Turkish allies have entered the regions promised to them in the peace treaty. In Palestine the English thrust which menaced the communication of the Turkish army groups had been checked and the English thrown back across the river Jordan."

DUTCH RELATIONS WITH GERMANY ARE STILL ACUTE

Authentic Details of Alleged Teuton Demands Upon Her Neighbor Are Not Yet Disclosed.

SAND AND GRAVEL QUESTION AN ISSUE

Germans Said to Expect Virtually to Force Holland Into Her Hands as Result of Negotiations.

LONDON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Relations between Germany and Holland are still discussed in special dispatches from Holland with the suggestion that the situation is extremely serious, but no one is able to give authentic details of the alleged German demands.

The sand and gravel question takes a prominent place in all the reports but some of the correspondents write of several others. The correspondent of the Times at The Hague mentions, among other things, the reported demand that Holland shall guarantee to Germany supply of raw materials immediately after the war, while a certain quantity of Dutch tonnage is demanded for the same period.

It is further suggested, the Times adds, that the Germans expect to be able to force Holland to accept such conditions as would virtually compel the Entente Allies formally to occupy the Dutch colonies which would throw Holland completely into German hands. There are no special indications of nervousness noticeable in The Hague and the correspondent of the Times says that reports such as the foregoing emanate solely from German sources.

Dutch Obstinacy in Resisting Demands Assailed by German Paper.

AMSTERDAM, April 24 (By A. P.).—The Berlin correspondent of the Koelnische Volks Zeitung, a copy of which has been received here, complains of the obstinacy with which Holland resists imperatively necessary concessions. He says Germany is inclined to meet Dutch wishes regarding a proposed system of exchanging ships with America, but "naturally on quite definite ends in return for quite definite concessions."

"We can wait until the Dutch in their own interests consider our conditions and demands acceptable," the dispatch concluded.

DYER ENTERTAINS REPUBLICANS

Congressmen Tells Committee to Win Election in Every District.

Congressman Dyer urged that efforts should be made in every district to send Republicans to the next Congress. MRS. SHORTRIDGE FILES ANSWER IN SUIT

Denies She Received Commissions oi Oil Stock Sales to Symphony Player.

The deposition of Mrs. Elizabeth Shortridge of 4418 Washington boulevard, a Christian Science practitioner, in a suit file dagainst her Feb. 21 by Tony P. Sarli of 5795 De Giverville avenue, a clarinetist in the Symphony Orchestra, and his wife, for $7699; and by Sarli's sister, Mrs. James P. Maffie, for $1992.50, was filed today in Circuit Judge Jones' court. The plaintiffs allege fraud and misrepresentation in the sale of oil stocks made by her to the Sarlis and Mrs. Maffie.

Mrs. Shortridge was questioned at length about alleged sales of stock made by her to the plaintiffs and others and emphatically denied that she received a commission for the sale of the stock.

"Criticism and slander," Mrs. Shortridge testified, were the only things that she received in return for the oil stock transactions with the Sarlis and others.

The Sarlis, who say they were patients of Mrs. Shortridge, allege that last April she told them that she had cured a Mrs. King of Keokuk, Io., of a severe illness and had thus earned the gratitude of Mr. King, a representative of the Standard Oil Co. They said she told them that Mr. King enabled her to make 10 per cent a month on her money, through oil stock purchases.

The Sarlis further allege that in purchasing stock of the Neosho Oil, Gas and Refining Co. of Kansas, they gave Mrs. Shortridge $500 on April 23, 1917, and $500 additional in May. Mrs. Shortridge paid them $100 as a 10 per cent dividend, they said, and offered them $150 more, but they turned that back to her, together with $350 more, bringing the investment to $1500. Soon after that, they allege, they mortgaged property for $5049, which they gave to Mrs. Shortridge for additional shares of stock.

Mrs. Shortridge, in her deposition, said she bought 5000 shares of stock from a Mr. Morris, representing the Neosho company, for which she gave $2500 cash and gave a note for the balance.

CAPITAL GOSSIP CENTERS ON THREE FOR SENATORSHIP

Wilfley, Dockery and Stephens Principally Mentioned; Latter Said to Be Gaining Strength in Backing.

REPORT ON WILFLEY TO THE GOVERNOR

St. Louis Lieutenant Carries View of Sentiment Here; Federal Crowd Looks Beyond to Appointments.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

JEFFERSON CITY, April 24.—Reports to be made to Gov. Gardner today by R. Perry Spencer, who has been called the "Col. House of the Gardner administration," and State Bank Commissioner C. F. Enright, who returned from St. Louis last night, are expected by politicians in the capitol to hasten the Governor's decision as to who will be the next United States Senator from Missouri.

Spencer and Enright have been on a two days' scouting expedition to St. Louis, picking up gossip and trying to learn the sentiment of the Governor's friends on the senatorship. It is understood here they will advise the Governor they found no objection to the appointment of Xenophon P. Wilfley, chairman of the St. Louis Board of Election Commissioners, to the senatorship, except from the "old guard" politicians.

Although the Governor has issued a public statement to the effect that none of his friends knows who he is going to appoint and that no attention should be given to any remarks by his friends, the practical politicians refuse to surrender the method by which for many years political events have been forecast.

Gossip at Capital.

From this gossip it is the talk in the capital that the appointment will go to Wilfley, E. W. Stephens of Columbia or former Gov. Dockery, who has the almost unanimous backing of the Federal office holders, the Missouri delegation in Congress and the old-time politicians, who are in the class of the professional politicians and professional office holders.

Strong pressure has been brought to bear on the Governor to appoint Dockery. Rufus Hollister, Assistant Secretary of the Democratic National Committee, and for many years secretary of the late Senator Stone, was in Jefferson City four days after the funeral of Senator Stone, frequented the Governor's office and the Executive Mansion, and held many conferences with State Senator Sam B. Cook and others of the "old guard" politicians.

Hollister was the representative of the Federal crowd, and while apparently he did most of his talking for the appointment of Speaker Champ Clark, it is thought here that it was understood by the Federal crowd that the national administration would prevent Clark's acceptance if the place was offered to him. Clark, it is known, really was their first choice, but Dockery is the second and is fully as acceptable.

Political Pie Factor.

The Federal office holders want a man who will stand with Senator Reed, not in his open opposition to the Wilson administration, but in matters of appointment. They realize that Reed has not the slightest influence with the President and that if there is another Senator from Missouri his desires in matters of appointment probably would be followed by the President.

They believe there is not the slightest doubt that Reed and either Clark or Dockery could come to an agreement on appointments. In fact most of the Federal appointees in Missouri are men who have for years been aligned with "old guard" politics. Hollister attended several dinners at the Jefferson City Country Club, at which the Governor, State Senator Cook and others were present. The Governor has attended such a dinner almost every night since his return Friday from Senator Stone's funeral in Nevada. While those at the dinners have been enjoined to secrecy, rumors have been circulated that the Governor has not been entirely amenable to "old guard reasoning," and that on more than one occasion the dinners have been on the verge of ending abruptly in a personal disagreement between the Governor and the "old guard" representatives.

Supreme Court Judge Graves is among those who have been seriously consideerd by the Governor, and while Judge Graves has not indicated whether he would accept were the appointment tendered to him, the opinion most frequently expressed here is that he would prefer to be a candidate this fall for re-election to the Supreme Court bench. His term as Judge would be for 10 years at a salary of $7500 a year. Appointment to the Senate would necessitate him making a campaign this fall and if elected he would have to be a candidate again in 1920 if he desired to continue in the Senate for six years more.

place under her own steam behind the lines of protecting cruisers.

One man who watched the operation from an escorting ship said to the Daily Chronicle's correspondent:

"When we saw the damage she had suffered it seemed scarcely possible that she was able to keep afloat. The men below must have worked like Trojans, for she was throwing flames 10 feet high from her funnel and she made the fastest time she probably ever accomplished."

German Rammed and Torpedoed.

The narrator described the combined noise of the German gunfire and the explosions on the mole as a "ten-fold hell." He added:

"We were only 400 or 500 yards away from the point of the mole, but were afraid to fire a shot lest we reveal our exact whereabouts to the enemy. Apparently he nearly judged it, for he threw a number of shells around us. At a moderate estimate between 3000 and 4000 shells were fired at the attacking squadron."

The German destroyer which was sunk was rammed amidships and torpedoed. Those who returned to the Kentish port also say that boarders rushed on the German destroyers anchored in the harbor, taking them completely by surprise. Some of the Germans hurried up to the hatchways in their night clothes, but before they could reach the decks the British sailors knocked them on their heads with clubs and rifles and sent them tumbling down the hatchways.

"Had a Hot Time," Says Marine.

A young marine who took part in the fighting on the mole at Zeebrugge described his experiences to a Central News correspondent at a Kentish port as follows:

"We certainly had a hot time. I shall never forget it. It was all pitch dark until we got right into the harbor and then the place suddenly became alight with star shells and the fun started.

"Looming big ahead of us was a German destroyer, evidently getting under way. We put on full speed ahead and rammed her amidships, cutting her in half. As she sank we steamed alongside the mole, quickly put out gangways and rushed onto the mole. By that time it was raining hard.

"The first thing my party encountered was a giant German, who came out of the semi-darkness and lunged at our nearest man. Before he could get in a blow our Captain knocked him on the head with his truncheon and he sank down dead.

"Mad and in High Glee."

"Next we saw another German destroyer, tied up on the other side of the mole. This we destroyed. We knocked on the head all who attempted to oppose our progress. Then came an order to charge along the mole. We rushed ahead, bayoneting or shooting all we came across.

"By this time we were fairly mad and in high glee. The noise of the firing mingling with the shouts and cries of the men was terrifying. It was a slaughter."

The marine said that when the order came to return to the ship they retraced their steps along the mole, which was littered with the dead and dying, and re-embarked safely.

Articles by naval writers and editorials in the morning newspapers eulogize with natural pride the volunteers who carried out the raid against Zeebrugge and Ostend and discuss the probable importance of the enterprise. Lieut. Hobson's feat at Santiago and Admiral Togo's exploit at Port Arthur are recalled as notable precedents, but the landing on the beach at Gallipoli is regarded by some writers as the only real parallel.

Curiosity is expressed as to the fate of the crews of the two old submarines which were assigned to blow up the piling at the approach to the mole at Zeebrugge. Their devotion to duty appeals to the imagination of the writers, for it is assumed that they voluntarily accepted almost certain death and that only by something akin to a miracle could those who remained aboard to explode the charges have survived.

Stories of survivors who have arrived at Dover flushed with the belief in the full success of the expedition are not corroborated in every detail by the official account. The reported destruction of the lock gates and the consequent draining of the Bruges Canal lack confirmation. If substantiated, this presumably would be the greatest achievement of the raiding squadron.

Estimates of the time the Germans will need to remove the obstructions from the channel and repair the damaged mole vary. Some assume that many days will intervene, others many weeks, while still others seem to suppose that the damage cannot be repaired for a very long time.

Explosions Heard at Dover.

The return of a damaged British cruiser with its decks torn open is described in dispatches from Dover. Few of the crew escaped injury of some kind while many bodies were brought back and placed in a temporary mortuary.

The survivors were greeted with hearty cheers from excited crowds who had awaited news of the fight eagerly since they were awakened Monday midnight by the sound of heavy gunfire. While the action was in progress the tremendous explosions were violent enough to shake buildings in Dover.

King George has telegraphed his congratulations to Vice Admiral Keyes.

Admiral Lord Beresford, in an interview, while eulogizing the Zeebrugge action as a splendid thing and quite worth attempting, warns against disappointment if the results do not reach the most sanguine expectations. He says that the blocking of a harbor is a most difficult undertaking and it never can be certain that the obstacles have been placed just right. Moreover, Lord Beresford says, there is always the possibility of dredging a channel around the obstacles or finding a passage between them.

Some of the newspapers say that the officer referred to by Admiral Sir Eric Geddes, the First Lord of the Admiralty, as having developed the fog and smoke screen for the British raiders and as having been killed in the attack was Acting Wing Commander Frank A. Brock. He was the son of a widely known fireworks manufacturer.

Young Brock entered the naval air service in January, 1916, as a Flight Lieutenant, became a Flight Commander in 1916 and received the Order of the British empire this year.

Sir Eric Geddes' Report to Commons on Naval Raid on U-Boat Bases

LONDON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Sir Eric Geddes, First Lord of the Admiralty, in supplementing the Admiralty report on Monday night's raid against Zeebrugge and Ostend, said yesterday, in giving the House of Commons such information as had come to hand of "this extremely gallant and hazardous raid:"

"I ask the members to appreciate that most of the officers and men from whom we have got to get the information have been fighting the greater part of the night and that some of them are not yet in.

"The raid was undertaken under command of Vice Admiral Roger Keyes, commanding at Dover. French destroyers co-operated with the British forces. Six obsolete cruisers, all from 20 to 30 years old, took part in the attack. They were the Brilliant, Sirius, Iphigenia, Intrepid, Thetis and Vindictive. The first five of these were filled with concrete and were to be sunk in the channel and entrances to the two ports, if this could possibly be managed.

"The Vindictive, working with two ferry boats, carried storming and demolition parties to storm the head of the mole which runs out from Zeebrugge. The Vindictive was especially fitted for landing storming parties and was armed specially for the purpose with flame throwers, Stokes mortars and that sort of thing.

Volunteers Were Used.

"The men employed on the block ships and in the storming and demolition parties on the Vindictive were bluejackets and marines picked from a large number of volunteers from the grand fleet and naval and marine depots. There was great competition for the undertaking, and we could only use a very small proportion of those who volunteered.

"There were light covering forces belonging to the Dover command and Harwich forces under Admiral Tyrwhitt, covering the operation in the north. A force of monitors, together with a large number of very small motor boats, took part in the operation, which was particularly intricate and had to be worked to a time table and involved delicate navigation on a hostile coast without lights and largely unknown navigational conditions developed since the war, with the added danger of mine fields.

"I should like to mention that the officer who developed the operation was killed.

"The high development of scientific use of fog or smoke was one of the essentials to success. It was more fog than smoke, which, combined with certain wind conditions, was essential to the success of the operation so as to protect the operation from batteries which might have flanked it.

"The plan was, after an intense bombardment of Zeebrugge by the monitors, the Vindictive, with auxiliaries, was to run alongside the mole and attack it with gunfire as they approached. Storming and demolition parties were to be landed. Meantime, three block ships, assisted by motor boats, were to make for the entrance to the canal, run aground and be blown up. Two old and valueless submarines, filled with explosives, were to run against the pilework connecting the masonry with the shore, in order to cut off the mole from the shore.

Difficulties at Ostend.

"At Ostend the operation was more simple, but the difficulties were considerably increased by mist, rain and low visibility and the consequent absence of aerial co-operation.

"The results thus far are known to be that two block ships were run ashore and blown up at Ostend. It is too early to say definitely whether they accomplished their object, but so far as the officers could see in the darkness they were slightly off the course, being sunk or blown up at the entrance of the canal. The third grounded while passing in.

"A certain amount of damage, the extent at present unknown, was done by gunfire and torpedo attack on an enemy destroyer and other craft lying at the mole. Coastal motor boats report having torpedoed an enemy destroyer which was trying to escape seaward. One of the two old submarines gained its objective and destroyed the piling approach to the mole.

"Storming parties from the Vindictive and the ferry boats attacked under an extremely heavy fire and fought with the greatest gallantry, maintaining their position alongside the mole and inflicting considerable losses. The objectives of the storming and demolition parties on the mole were the enemy forces holding it and the battery upon it, as well as the destroyer and submarine depots and the large seaplane base upon it.

Three Vessels Withdrew.

"After re-embarking their landing parties, the aforesaid three vessels withdrew. This attack primarily was intended to engage the attention of the garrison on the mole, thereby allowing the block ships to enter the harbor.

"The casualties to the personnel, as we had expected in a hazardous adventure of the kind, were heavy in proportion to the number of men engaged. Up to today the British losses reported are one destroyer sunk by gunfire, and two coastal motor boats and two launches missing.

"We have sufficient information to show that the entrance to the Bruges Canal probably was effectively blocked, that material damage was done, and that the greatest credit is due to all ranks for their gallantry."

The Daffodil and the Iris, which aided the Vindictive in landing the storming parties on the Zeebrugge Mole, are steel, twin-screw cutters of 465 tons, which will be remembered by thousands of Americans as municipal ferry boats on the Mersey. They are the largest and most modern steamers of this class in the United Kingdom, having a carrying capacity of more than 1700 passengers. They belonged to the fleet of ferry boats which carry 25,000 passengers annually between Liverpool and New Brighton.

Snow in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24 (By A. P.).—Rain which began falling last night turned to snow early this morning and reports from Kansas indicated that the northern and central parts of the State received a general fall on west to the Colorado line, while the southern part reported none. (The Germans, who were the originators of the air raids on open, undefended cities in France and England, in the hope of creating a "desire for peace," now are protesting against this form of warfare, since the Allies are beating them at their own game.)

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN ENLISTS IN THE NAVY HERE

He Is a Missouri Boy, However, and Not Related to Former Secretary of State.

William Jennings Bryan, asserting that he was not for peace at any price, but wanted to "see it through to a finish," enlisted in the navy at the recruiting station here yesterday. He was made a second-class seaman.

Bryan is 21 years old, a lineman for the Western Union, and lives at Glenwood, Mo. He told recruiting officers that he was not related, either by family ties or political sympathies with the former Secretary of State. He volunteered his statement about his ideas on peace.

BAKER BEFORE SENATORS

Gives War Information to Military Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Information Gathered by Secretary Baker on his recent visit to Europe was given to the Senate Military Affairs Committee today. Secretary Baker was with the committee less than an hour.

Plans for an expansion of army or draft legislation were not discussed. The Secretary said he was not yet ready to present those subjects, but after the hearing he took occasion to deny reports that President Wilson is "holding up" the army expansion program.

Japanese Secret Agents in China.

PEKIN, April 27.—According to a report from Tokio representative Sakurai recommended to the Japanese Diet a large increase in the appropriation anually made for secret service work in China. It is well known that Japan has for some time had secret agents scattered through China. They are usually disguised as Chinese, and have been discovered making maps and plans of Chinese buildings and gathering information of various sorts.

Man's Body Found in River.

The man wore a gray suit, a striped silk shirt, black shoes, a white collar and black bow tie. The laundry mark "A. P. 38" appeared on the shirt and underwear. He also carried a bunch of keys on a ring bearing the ndmeral 14, and $4.65.

DONNELLY SAYS HE WILL NOT RESIGN

Understood Missouri Brigadier-General Will Be Put on Trial Before Courtmartial.

NEW YORK, April 24 (Special).—Brigadier-General Arthur B. Donnelly of St. Louis, commander of the Sixty-ninth Infantry Brigade, who is at Camp Mills, Mineola, Long Island, today said that he will not resign.

This being the case it is understood that he will be placed on trial before a courtmartial. If the usual procedure is followed the trial court will be made up of Major Generals, a number of whom are now at the Mineola camp.

It is understood the charges against Gen. Donnelly involve violation of the army restrictions as to intoxicants, and not military efficiency.

NO SWISS AID FOR DR. MUCK

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—The Swiss Government has decided not to press its claim of Swiss citizenship for Dr. Karl Muck, formerly leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, now interned at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., as a dangerous German.

This eliminates all danger of complications with Switzerland over the case.

The Swiss Minister, Hans Sulzer, after examining records of the Department of Justice concerning Dr. Muck, feels satisfied it was said today, that Muck had repeatedly claimed German citizenship and that consequently the United States was justified in interning him. The precise nature of the Department of Justice's evidence against Dr. Muck may be made public shortly. It is understood Government agents obtained letters and other documents written by Muck in past years, in which he claimed he was a German subject.

GERMANS LOST 300 MEN AT SEICHEPREY

That Many Dead Were Left in No Man's Land Before U. S. Trenches.

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1918, by Press Pub. Co.)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE FIELD, April 24.—It is now definitely established that more than 300 dead Germans were seen in the American trenches and in No Man's Land after the violent assault of the enemy against our lines before Seicheprey, and his final ejectment after impetuous counter attacks.

It was a dearly bought effort to strike at the American morale, and only the Germans' preliminary successes stand to his credit for the piles of dead which now litter the terrain between our lines and his, which are the same lines that existed before this long calculated smash with picked troops.

Officers Distinguish Themselves.

I am now able to give the names of some of the many officers who greatly distinguished themselves in this hard fight. The units of the right end of the section attacked appear to have borne the brunt of the onslaught. Capt. Griswold of Hartford being under the heaviest fire of all. Capt. Freeland and Capt. Felsted, both of New Haven, Machine Gun Capt. Parker and Pickett of Hartford were not so badly hit.

It was Capt. Griswold who was surrounded at least three times and apparently captured in each case, but who, with automatic pistol, killed four Germans, using the butt of his weapon on the head of the fourth.

A German-American's Bravery.

One American soldier was hit by shell fire and his leg was severed above the knee. A comrade, who is a German-American, despite the heavy fire, stopped and made a tourniquet. Then he swung the wounded man over his back and rectraced his way to the American lines under a hail or fire, but not before he also had picked up the severed leg.

Officers of his regiment, in relating the details of the incident to me today, said that when he finally got out of the zone of fire he had traversed many hundred yards with his human burden. He deposited the man in an advanced dressing station and was asked:

"Why did you bring back the leg?"

"Oh," he replied, as he took it from under his arm, "I thought you might be able to do something with it. Can't you sew it on again?"

ARMY DIVISION ADOPTS A BABY BORN AT CAMP

Mary Sunshine Webb Has Education Fund Made Up of Soldiers' Dimes.

CAMP KEARNY, Cal., April 24.—There's a wee, baby girl at Camp Kearny, who, at the present time, is probably the most popular child in the United States. She has more than 25,000 godfathers—who are awaiting their turn to pinch her pink, fat cheeks and play with her chubby little toes.

The popular baby is Little Mary Sunshine Webb, the first child born at the cantonment and the daughter of proud Corporal Thomas Webb of the 115th Engineers.

Every soldier of the Sunshine division is now donating one dime each for the education of Mary Sunshine. The campaign was begun immediately following Mary's appearance at the base hospital. It spread like wildfire and when the men heard the news they piled over each other in donating their bit. As a result there will be a bank account to Mary Sunshine's credit totaling more than $2500 within a few days.

Corporal Webb had made his home at Miramar, just outside the cantonment limits, and the nearest medical attention was to be found at the base hospital. Mary now has received hundreds of soldier callers, although but 2 days old. As yet she has never seen a man in civilian clothing and a woman without the Red Cross dress. She is a soldier-girl through and through, and long after the Sunshine division has returned victorious they will remember little Mary Sunshine.

Corn, Wood and Hay for Red Cross.

HUNTINGTON, Tenn., April 24.—At a Red Cross donation day here recently it was announced that small donations of all kinds would be accepted. Donations came in the form of corn, firewood, baled hay, eggs, canned fruit and the like. At the auction which followed one bundle (10 ears) of corn sold for $65.80 and was then given back to the Red Cross to be resold. About $1200 was taken in the first day, with enough produce left on hand for another day's auction.

12,000 Men at Nitro Plant.

NITRO, W. Va., April 27.—Between 10,000 and 12,000 men are employed here in the construction of Explosive Plant "C" for the Government and more are being sought daily. Between 15,000 and 18,000 will be kept employed continuously until the work is completed the constructors have announced. The plant will cost $100,000,000.

How Premier German Flyer Was Brought Down and Buried With Honors

Capt. Von Richthofen Was Trying to Break Through British Aerial Defenses When Shot in the Heart.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 24 (By A. P.).—Baron von Richthofen, star German airman, apparently was killed when trying to break through the British aerial defenses in the Ancre region in order that enemy reconnaissance machines might cross the lines to make observations on the defenses. A document captured Sunday reveals the reason for his presence there. It is a communication from the "group commander of aviation" to the first pursuit squadron, of which Von Richthofen's eleventh pursuit flight was part, saying:

"It is not possible to fly over the Ancre in a westerly direction on account of strong enemy opposition. I request that this aerial barrage be forced to break in order that a reconnaissance up to the line of Marfux-Puchevillers (10 miles from the front) may be carried out."

Had 20 Followers.

The Captain, with his "Flying Circus" of more than 20 followers, came toward the British lines near Sailly le Sac, on the Somme, at about noon Sunday. As they neared the fighting front they encountered two British airplanes. Capt. von Richthofen for some reason separated himself from his followers and started on a furious pursuit of these machines.

Meanwhile a score of other British planes came swirling up and engaged the Germans. The Captain kept after his man and attempted to outmaneuver him. The British plane which was accompanying the one under attack, got above the German. The three machines raced toward the British lines, their machine guns chattering like mad. They kept getting lower, until at last, when they were about 50 yards back of the British trenches, they were only a few hundred feet in the air. Meanwhile the other German machines were fighting the British squadron more than three miles away.

Machine guns and rifles on the ground came into action against Capt. von Richthofen, who also was being fired at by at least one of his adversaries in the air. Suddenly his machine crashed to the earth. The German pilot had a bullet through his heart. The spot where he fell was under observation of German gunners, who placed a heavy barrage around the machine. A British soldier crawled out to it and found the aviator dead, still sitting in the seat of the smashed machine.

Flyer Is Buried.

A large number of British fighting men and aviation officers, as well as Americans stationed at an airdome near by, attended the burial Monday of Capt. von Richthofen, who was laid away in the graveyard of a little hamlet near Sailly le Sac. No finer rite could have been performed had it been the premier allied pilot who lost his life, instead of this intrepid German, whom all honored.

The thoughts of those who stood at the grave while the army chaplain read the beautiful Church of England service were expressed in an inscription on one of the floral wreaths—"A Valiant and Worthy Foe."

One particularly striking touch was added to the ceremony. As the chaplain took his place by the grave a squadron of British airplanes came from all directions, and throughout the service wheeled over the graveyard at a low altitude.

Motor Trouble Forced Von Richthofen to Land, German Report Says.

AMSTERDAM, April 24 (By A. P.).—According to official German accounts of capt. von Richthofen's end, he was pursuing at a low altitude an enemy battle plane when apparently motor trouble forced him to land behind the enemy lines. As Von Richthofen was pursuing an enemy plane at the time, the accounts point out he could not well have been hit by his opponent's fire and the belief is expressed that he was the victim of a chance shot from the ground.

German General Pays Tribute to Dead Airman.

BERLIN, via London, April 24 (By A. P.).—Lieutenant-General von Hoepner, the Commanding General of the German Imperial Air Forces, today paid a tribute to Baron von Richtohofen, the famous German airman, who recently was killed while flying over the British battle front in France. The General in an official order says:

"Rittmeister Baron von Richthofen has not returned from his pursuit of the enemy. He has fallen. The army has lost its generally admired hero, the scouts their irresistible and beloved leader. He remains the hero of the German people, for whom he fought and died. His death is a deep wound for his squadron and for the entire air force. The will whereby he conquered and led and which he handed down, will heal the wound."

COL. RUMBOLD IS HERE ON LEAVE OF ABSENCE

St. Louis Artillerymen at Camp Doniphan in Fine Trim and Eager to Get to France, He Says.

Col. Frank M. Rumbold, commander of the 128th Field Artillery, a St. Louis regiment, now at Camp Doniphan, Ok., is in St. Louis on a 10-days leave of absence. He recently attended the brigade and field officers' school at San Antonio with commanding officers from former National Guard regiments from all over the country and has just graduated from a 10 weeks course of instruction for artillery officers at the School of Fire, Fort Sill, Ok.

"The St. Louis artillerymen," Col. Rumbold said, "are in fine physical trim and on their toes with anxiety to get to France. All necessary equipment has been issued and target practice is being held daily on the artillery ranges. The men have become very proficient in handling the 'four point seven,' the type of gun used by the regiment."

Maj. Daniel F. Jones of St. Louis is in command in Col. Rumbold's absence.

HOSPITAL UNIT 21 ACTIVE IN BIG BATTLE

Dr. Eugene L. Opie, Home From Service in France, Saw Beginning of Offensive.

Dr. Eugene L. Opie of 427 Lake avenue, head of the department of pathology at Washington University Medical School, who went to France with Base Hospital Unit No. 21 as captain in charge of laboratory service, has returned to St. Louis. He now is a Major in the Medical Reserve Corps, having been promoted while on active service with a British hospital in Northern France.

Maj. Opie left France about three and a half weeks ago, after the German drive started. He witnessed the activities behind the British lines and saw many wounded soldiers who had partricipated in the almost severe fighting of the offensive.

Has Been at British Hospital.

From the early part of last summer, when Unit No. 21 arrived in France, until the last of December, Maj. Opie was assistant director of the unit in charge of laboratory service. From the last of December until he left France, he has been on detached service with a large British hospital in Northern France.

Members of Unit 21 have kept remarkably free from sickness of all kinds, Maj. Opie said, and all thoroughly enjoy their work. The unit was very active during the recent drive, many wounded soldiers reaching the base hospital at Rouen, France, from 10 to 12 hours after falling in battle.

Cautioned Not to Talk.

Maj. Opie told a Post-Dispatch reporter that all officers, both medical and military, coming home from France, have been cautioned not to discuss for publication the situation in France or tell of their experiences. Those who have seen fit to disregard this prohibition have been subjected to severe criticism, he said.

Maj. Opie has resumed charge of his department at the Washington University Medical School, but is still on the active service list. He said that he had been ordered back to the United States and will remain in St. Louis pending orders.

Officer in First U. S. Engagement Killed.

FITCHBURG, Mass., April 24 (By A. P.).—Second Lieutenant Lawrence S. Ayer of this city, a member of the battery that fired the first American shot in the war, was killed in action April 20, according to information received here today. He was 24 years of age.

GOLTRA DENIES HE SOUGHT A NAVY RESPITE FOR SON

Says Field, Who Enlisted Last June and Was Put on Inactive List, Will Report for Duty May 15.

HAS PROVISIONAL ENSIGN COMMISSION

Committeeman's Son Got 60 Days Respite on Industrial Grounds When Called Into Active Service.

Edward F. Goltra of 4487 Lindell boulevard, Democratic National Committeemen from Missouri, in a statement to reporters in Washington yesterday, gave his version of the delay in the entrance of his son Field Goltra, 27 years old, into the active service of the United States Navy, in which he enlisted last June. The young man received a provisional commission as ensign two weeks after enlisting, his qualification being his experience in yachting along the Atlantic Coast.

Ensign Goltra is now in St. Louis, acting as superintendent of the Mississippi Valley Iron Co., of which his father is president. He said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he was under orders to report for active duty at League Island, Philadelphia, May 15, and that he expected to do so.

An article printed in the Chicago Tribune stated that Secretary Daniels had placed the young man on the inactive list and that in this way he was being kept out of the army draft, without having to perform active naval duty. The article said that when young Goltra was recently ordered to active duty his father called on Secretary Daniels and got him to restore the young man to the inactive list.

Denies Using Influence.

The elder Goltra denied in Washington that he had attempted to bring any influence to bear in his son's behalf. He said the young man would report for active duty next month.

"My son has never been placed on the inactive list by Secretary Daniels," Goltra said. "Since he entered the service last summer he has been waiting for his call, which came about 40 days ago. He was at that time directing the work of installing a new blast furnace. The manager of the plant said it was necessary for him to remain while the installation was being made, and he applied for a 60 days' respite.

"I was in Washington soon afterward, and called at the Navy Department. In conversation with Rear Admiral Parker, I mentioned the fact that my son had applied for a respite and explained why. He said he believed there would be no difficulty, if the work he was doing was essential. The respite was granted, and the young man is now prepared to leave next month.

"I never made any requests of Secretary Daniels in the matter, and I have mentioned my son's connection with the navy to him only once, which was shortly after he enlisted. I happened to meet Mr. Daniels casually and told him my boy had volunteered; he congratulated me and that was all that was said."

The young man said he had been on the inactive list, but did not know why. He said he was not aware that his father had taken any hand in the matter of his connection with the navy, and that he would not have wished to have his father or anyone else do so. He said he was desirous of seeing active service, and that if he had wished to escape the draft, he believed he could have obtained industrial exemption, as superintendent of a blast furnace, a work in which he is now training another man to take his place.

Enlisted Last June.

"I enlisted in the navy June 1 last," Goltra said. "I mentioned my yachting experience to Lieut. Longworthy of the recruiting office here, as I thought it might qualify me for a better place than I would otherwise get. I passed my physical examination and then awaited my call.

"Two weeks later I was notified that I had received a provisional commission as ensign and had been placed on the inactive list. I received the circulars and bulletins which were sent to men on the inactive list, but I got no personal notice until about two weeks ago. Why there was so much long delay I do not know.

"The notice which I got two weeks ago ordered me to report May 15 at League Island for active service. I shall have to take a course of training and pass an examination before I can be sure of retaining the rank of ensign."

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 24 (By A. P.).—Lieut. George E. Bell, an aviator of Philadelphia, was instantly killed when the airplane in which he was giving instruction to Cadet Hardy M. Benson of Clarendon, Tex., fell near the Benbrook hangers yesterday afternoon. Cadet Benson received only minor bruises.

The cadet was in the front seat. Bell working the controls. Bell "banked." As he did the plane seemed to stop and quiver and then turned into a spin. He had reached an altitude of only 700 feet and did not have room to bring the machine out of the spin.

Problems in Registering Alien Enemy Women

Status of Many Uncertain

By STERLING E. EDMUNDS,
Lecturer on International Law, St. Louis University Law School.

IN the pending registration of all women subjects of Germany, of the age of 14 years and upward, resident in the United States, many knotty problems will arise in determining who come within this class of persons, by reason of the varied character of our naturalization laws in their application to women and minor children.

By an act of Congress of March 2, 1907, for example, it was declared "that any American woman who married a foreigner shall take the nationality of her husband." By a long line of decisions in the first half of last century it was held that marriage of an American woman to an alien did not deprive her of American citizenship if she remained in the United States. It is questionable, therefore, whether the act of 1907 is retroactive and has the effect of making alien enemies of resident American-born women who are the wives of German subjects and who were married prior to March 2, 1907.

The first legislation by Congress with respect to the effect of marriage upon a woman's citizenship was the act of 1855 which declared that "any woman who is now or may hereafter be married to a citizen of the United States, and who might herself be naturalized, shall be deemed a citizen." The effect of this statute is to confer citizenship upon all German women subjects who have married American citizens.

Although an American-born woman who has married a German subject becomes herself a German subject, her American citizenship reverts to her upon the termination of her marriage by his death or divorce if she continue to reside in the United States. Likewise, in the case of a foreign-born woman who has married an American citizen, her continued residence in the United States after the termination of the marriage relations is considered an election of her husband's citizenship.

In view of the constitutional provision whereby all persons born in the United States are declared citizens, there will be many cases in which women will be compelled to register as German subjects, while their children, being native-born citizens, will not be required to do so. Likewise, no registration will be required of former German-born subjects who were minors, resident in the United States, at the time of the naturalization of their father or widowed mother, since naturalization of the parent, has the effect of naturalizing the resident minor children.

Not only is the political status of foreign-born but resident minor children of aliens affected by the naturalization of the parent, but it follows the political status of the widowed mother upon her remarriage and becomes that of the stepfather. As an illustration we may take the case of the widow of a German subject who comes to the United States with her minor children and marries an American citizen; that marriage naturalizes her children. If upon his death she remarry a German subject the children would likewise take on German nationality. Remarriage of a widowed mother, of course, has no effect upon the American citizenship of American-born children residing in the United States, although if their parents are aliens the children may upon coming of age elect to remain American citizens or to take the nationality of the parents.

The foreign-born children of a father who has merely declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States are not affected in their political status by such declaration, though upon coming of age and after his death, they may be admitted to citizenship upon petition, provided they are not alien enemies.

The treaties of naturalization concluded by the United States with the German states provide that two years residence in the native state by a former citizen or subject naturalized in the other state shall evidence such person's intent to resume his original allegiance. Wherefore in the case of naturalized citizens of German origin who have returned to Germany and remained two years, the wife and children remaining in the United States, if not native born, may be held to have lost their American citizenship.

WANT MEETING OF U. S. LABOR BOARD HERE

Union Officials Wire President That Industrial Situation in St. Louis Is Critical.

Union labor officials met yesterday and telegraphed to President Wilson urging him to instruct the National War Labor Board to convene in St. Louis with a view to settling all labor disputes in this city. The text of the telegram follows:

The industrial situation in St. Louis is very critical, owing to the refusal of employers to accept the recommendations of the United States conciliators relative to the settlement of strikes in their plants.

We are using our best endeavors to prevent further strikes, and urge you to instruct your labor board to convene in St. Louis to formulate a plan to settle all labor disputes during the period of the war. Please advise us when we may expect the board to meet here.

The telegram was signed by David Kreyling, secretary Central Trades and Labor Union; Maurice Cassidy, secretary Building Trades Council; H. Joern, George Day and George Haas, Carpenters' District Council; J. C. McCormick, Molders' Union; James Hannon, Machinist's Union; Edward Kummings, Metal Workers' Union; James Moran, Concrete Workers' Union, and E. Eberhoh, Patternmakers' Union.

Frank Morrison, secretary American Federation of Labor, was notified of the action taken.

A canvass of the industrial situation, made last week by the Post-Dispatch, disclosed that 3275 workers in five industries are now on strike, and that since Feb. 1 approximately 14,150 striking employes have returned to work in seven industries.

150 TRUCK GARDENERS APPEAR AGAINST WEEKE

Witness Says Inspector Declared He'd Smash Boxes Whether He Was Right or Wrong.

About 150 truck gardeners of St. Louis County were in Circuit Judge Taylor's court today for the hearing on the injunction suit brought to restrain Inspector of Weights and Measures Weeke from smashing their vegetable boxes. The suit was brought by the St. Louis Farmers and Gardeners' Box Committee, representing about a dozen organizations, with a membership of 2500 to 3000.

Roy Bergmann of Baden Station testified that he had used the same boxes for 14 years, that each farmer had to have 500 to 1000 of the boxes, that they cost 18 cents apiece now, as against 10 cents formerly, that the boxes were filled heaping, that they sold to commission men exclusively, who knew the boxes held less than a bushel, that their trucks were built to accommodate boxes of the old size and that the boxes which Weeke was trying to make them use were not in conformity to the ordinance under which he pretended to be acting, and were only half an inch higher than the old boxes.

Bergmann said that a few days ago he sold 20 boxes of vegetables and dumped them from the old boxes to the Weeke boxes and each Weeke box was filled.

Weeke, Bergmann said, had threatened to smash every box on the street, whether he was right or wrong.

Weeke has filed an answer in which he says the old boxes are used to deceive the public. The farmers and gardeners ask for the injunction on the ground that the weights and measures specified in the ordinance do not conform with those fixed by Congress.

SHERMAN DECLARES PRESIDENT IS SURROUNDED BY SOCIALISTS

Illinois Senator Would "Scatter Bunch of Economic Fakirs and Howling Dervishes' Now in Office.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—A vehement attack upon President Wilson and some of the members of his official family by Senator Sherman of Illinois, Republican, yesterday marked the last day of unlimited debate in the Senate on the Overman bill, which would give the President great powers for reorganizing Government agencies during the war.

In a speech opposing the measure, and asserting that the executive had not used properly authority already possessed, the Illinois Senator criticised particularly Secretaries Baker and Wilson, Postmaster-General Burleson and George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information. He declared the President had surrounded himself with Socialists and that he should "scatter the bunch of economic fakirs and howling dervishes" now in office

CREEL A WITNESS AT TRIAL OF EDITOR OF "THE MASSES"

Public Information Committee Chairman Denies Having Opposed June, 1917, Issue of Magazine.

NEW YORK, April 24 (By A. P.).—George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information, took the witness stand today in the trial of Max Eastman, editor of The Masses, and others connected with the publication who are accused of obstructing the draft law.

Testifying regarding statements made on the stand by one of the defendants, C. Merrill Rogers, who was the paper's business manager, Creel controverted Rogers' assertions that during a conversation between the two, Creel had approved the writings contained in the issue of June, 1917.

Rogers had gone to Washington, the defendant a few days ago testified, to submit the contents of the magazine to Creel, then at the head of the Censorship Board, and Creel had found nothing objectionable.

Creel testified today that he told Rogers at that interview that there was no law which gave him the authority to pass on the contents, but that it was for the Department of Justice to determine whether its character was objectionable. Creel swore that he told Rogers that the whole tone of the magazine was not in "accordance with the spirit of the law," in his opinion.

Cross-examined, Creel conceded that Rogers had manifested a desire on the part of the editors to make their publication thoroughly acceptable to the Government.

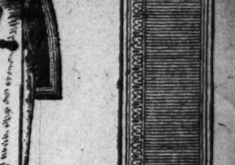

Some months before America entered the war, Creel said, he himself had contributed an article to The Masses.

As the witness passed the table where the defendants were sitting Max Eastman rose and shook hands with Creel, an dthe two walked to the door, where they talked for a few minutes before Creel departed.

ST. LOUISAN WRITES OF GERMAN OFFENSIVE

Lieut. Robert Hale in "Hail of Shells" on March 21, but Escaped.

Lieut. Robert Hale, formerly agency secretary of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, 613 Locust street, has written from France to a friend that he was in the French front-line trenches which came under the big German attack of March 21, but came out "through a hail of shells" without injury.

"They kept us ducking all the time," he adds, "but luck was with us. I am on my way to join our own troops and then back after the boches with the Americans!" This part of the letter was written March 23. Extracts from other parts of the letter, written a few days before the beginning of the offensive, follow:

"March 15—Was awakened early this morning by the heavy bombardment of a raid in another sector. Went up to the first-line trenches early. I saw another airplane fight at noon today. My glasses are indeed useful. The German trenches are only a few hundred yards away and are on two sides of our sector. Have some fragments of one of the shells that hit near us, which I will bring home as souvenirs.

"Our company has a little dog mascot which they call 'Verdun.' He was in the great battle of Verdun and it was there they found him. He has a great time chasing rats. This morning he went out through the wire and we were afraid the Germans would take a shot at him.

"March 20—We moved up to the very front line and live in a deep, dark dugout. I have seen my first real fighting. The Germans made a raid on our company. They killed some of our men and captured others. We had some hard fighting for a while. The big shells were falling around us like hailstones and the earth trembled like an earthquake. Machine gun and rifle bullets were whistling close to our heads. We did not know how anyone lived through it. The French replied with their artillery, machine guns, etc. It was my first sight of hand-to-hand fighting. The boche beat a hasty retreat under the cover of their barrage. It was pretty hot for us for a while.

"The shells are going over all the time and some land very close. A splinter from one just grazed my steel helmet yesterday."

To Raise Charge for Digging of Graves

The cemetery committee of the Belleville City Council yesterday instructed City Attorney Louis Grossmann to draw up an ordinance providing for an increase of $1 in the charge for digging graves in Walnut Hill cemetery. The wages of laborers at the cemetery recently were raised. The ordinance will also specify that $1.50 more will be charged for small graves and $3 for large graves dug on Sunday.

SUGAR FOR DOMESTIC CANNING

Consumers Will Have to Sign Applications for Amounts Needed.

WASHINGTON, April 24. (By A. P.).—Sugar for domestic canning and preserving this summer will be distributed under a modified certificate system by which each consumer will be required to sign an application for the amount needed. Adoption of this plan is announced by the Food Administration with the explanation that its purpose is to make sure that home canners may obtain sufficient sugar to preserve perishable fruits and at the same time to place a check upon any who might try to obtain unreasonable quantities for household consumption.

Retail dealers will be provided by their state Federal administrators with certificates to be signed by the consumers. In order to build up reserve stocks to care for the canning demand jobbers are now permitted to hold sugar sufficient to meet their needs for 60 instead of 30 days. Commercial canners in every state will be allowed to increase immediate purchases and gradually to accumulate sufficient sugar to meet full requirements of their 1918 canning operations.

A Little Bit of Fluff

A little bit of fluff, some filmy lace, ribbons fluttering in the breeze—a woman! One cannot think of soft, clinging fabrics without thinking of the gentler sex—and the woman, how her heart warms when she dreams of silks fit for a princess and the lingerie of a queen!

It's the little things of life that count. An artist's success lies in the working out of details. The glamor of his sunsets depends upon his skillful manipulation of lights and shadows—the purity of his color tone. And a woman's costume! If her hat and shoes and gloves are not in harmony with her frock—that spells ruination.

It is not only on the surface that Milady has to be careful. It is just as important, or even more so, for her to be well dressed underneath.

* * * * *

There is no excuse for not wearing beautiful lingerie these days, for one can get the loveliest, daintiest things for quite reasonable amounts. And if you have money to spend, no queen can possess more exquisite things; but no matter how many silken undergarments the woman of fashion may possess, they can never take the place of the dainty hand-made French lingerie.

Camisoles, or corset covers as they were formerly known, should not be overlooked now that the thin Georgette crepe waists are so popular.

* * * *

Now we come to the most important undergarment of all—the corset. It, too, can be surprisingly attractive. Time was when the looks of this article was a minor consideration. Now it is a primary one. For any model can be had in pretty pink or flesh brocades, trimmed with lace and fancy ribbon at the top. Being the one thing which is worn every day and all the time, more care should be taken in keeping it clean and fresh than with anything else.

But one has to consider more than looks in choosing a corset. No matter how beautiful it might seem, if it is not the proper model for you, it would be a big mistake to buy it. Select your individual corsets, then ask for the pretty materials if you wish them. A woman can't wear "just any" corset, if she wishes to preserve her figure. A stout woman, for instance, could not dream of wearing the almost girdle-like model so well suited to the sylphlike figure.

The well-dressed woman must have a change of corsets as well as a change of other underwear, for those which might be perfectly comfortable for walking would be absolutely unsuited for any kind of athletic work or other exercises where the free use of the muscles should be a primary thought.

* * * *

Brassieres are another article of clothing quite necessary to the well-dressed woman, because they hold her corset in place and give a splendid foundation for a well-fitting costume. No self-respecting woman will now allow herself to be dressed in a careless manner. And corsets plus brassieres spell a neat and graceful appearance. The modern brassiere is quite different from the old-fashioned plain ones. They are quite attractive, being made of satin, net and heavier materials, combined with ribbons and lace—the only point of difference between them and a camisole being that they are fitted to the figure.

MOVING THIS YEAR TO BE UNATTRACTIVE JOB

Canvass of Real Estate Men Shows Apartments Are Rapidly Filled at Increasing Rents.

A Post-Dispatch reporter, seeking to determine what conditions will be encountered by St. Louisans desiring to move this year, found the situation, after a visit to real estate offices along Chestnut street, to be as follows:

Apartments are virtually all occupied, flats are becoming scarcer and houses that have stood vacant, many for a long term of years, are rapidly being occupied.

Rentals on apartments have increased virtually 10 per cent or will increase on Sept. 1 and rentals on flats are being increased, though not as generally as on apartments.

One agent, who said he handled 84 apartment buildings, declared he had only one apartment unoccupied. Another said that within a week he had rented four houses that had long stood vacant. Still another showed a list of about 50 persons who were waiting for apartments, a condition which, he said, was unprecedented in his experience.

Reasons for the scarcity of apartments were given as follows:

1. Virtual suspension of all building due to the high price of materials and the request of the Government for conservation.

2. Unusual movement of residents from the country to St. Louis, due, it is believed, to the city's war prosperity.

3. Unwillingness of tenants to deal with the coal problem and the consequent movement from flats to apartments. Also, the scarcity of domestics has influenced women to seek apartments where household duties are lighter.

Reasons assigned for the increase of rentals were:

1. Increased price of coal. Many agents are demanding that leases made now be dated to expire Oct. 1, 1919, at an increased rental. Others are making leases expire Sept. 1, when the winter coal prices will likely be known.

2. Increased cost of upkeep. Agents declare that repairs and decorating have increased 30 per cent in cost. Repairs are being made only where absolutely necessary and many lease renewals are being made without provision for redecorating.

3. Scarcity of buildings. Agents no longer have to compete with promoters of apartment and flat buildings who heretofore have offered concessions to fill them up, thus keeping down the rentals of older buildings.

It may be true that it is more difficult than usual to secure the right sort of workers—most of them being employed, but IF THE WORKER YOU NEED IS TO BE FOUND a Post-Dispatch Want Ad will bring him.

PARIS SHIRTS FOR U. S. SOLDIERS

Plans Made to Give Work to French Dressmakers and Allied Trades.

PARIS, April 23 (By A. P.).—The Quartermaster's Department of the American Army will try to do what it can to alleviate the crisis in dressmaking and allied trades caused by the departure of many customers. It is intended to have uniforms and shirts for the American soldiers made in Paris, thus effecting economy in shipping space. Bids will be invited from French manufacturers for these goods, which will only be accepted if up to the desired standard.

Preference in contracts will be given to French manufacturers who have been compelled to close their factories owing to the crisis.

NO DANGER IN STORING COAL NOW FOR WINTER

Little Chance of Combustion and Supply Will Not Deteriorate, Expert Says.

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 24.—The engineering school and experiment station of the University of Missouri have given considerable study to Missouri coals and the effect of storage.

"For Missouri conditions every citizen should be urged to buy coal early and store his season's supply in order to avoid traffic congestion on the railways later in the year," says Dean E. J. McCausland of the university. "This should particularly be urged with reference to domestic supplies which demand small storage space. The average householder who uses only a small amount of fuel is likely to feel that it is immaterial when he purchases it. If he would remember, however, that the average used by domestic consumers totals a very large tonnage, he would appreciate that a concerted effort to store coal in the slack season would react favorably on general conditions and be an act of real patriotism.

"Many people hesitate to store coal in their cellars on account of possible deterioration in fuel value or on account of fear of spontaneous combustion. As a matter of fact, the ordinary grades of coal used for domestic purposes lose very little in fuel value by storage of a few months. Furthermore, dry coal placed in storage in quantities usually needed for the individual householder is not likely to be subject to spontaneous combustion. The coal should not be sprinkled when it is placed in the bins, nor should it be sprinkled during the season of storage in order to keep down the dust. Better a little dust than take any chance of reducing fuel value or causing combustion or the fuel."

35,000 AMERICANS IN NAVAL SERVICE ABROAD "NOT MANY"

German Paper Comments on Daniels' Speech and British Figures on U. S. Aid.

THE HAGUE, April 22.—The Cologne Gazette comments on the fact that the British press has finally published a few figures on American naval help, after Secretary Daniels' speech in Cleveland.

The papers say that the light cruisers under Admiral Sims have often been spoken of and that the increasing number of cruisers, destroyers, submarines, gunboats, and other vessels in use is also well known. It asserts that the only new fact is that a number of big American battleships of modern type have been under Sir David Beatty's command since a few months ago.

The 35,000 American officers and men in service in European waters are not very many, the Gazette considers, as this total includes the crews of all small vessels. The paper says that America has not many destroyers and that the building of that type of ship was always a step-child which will not progress. The big battleships, it says, are chiefly demonstrative and will not come into battle.

"The smart Yankees," it asserts, "will not let the opportunity of learning something about modern warfare escape. Who knows how useful it will be?"

270,000 Ship Workers Enrolled.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Eprollment of 270,000 shipyard workers in the employment service reserve was announced today by the Department of Labor. Two months ago 250,000 was set as the goal.

DANDRUFF SURELY DESTROYS THE HAIR

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—ADV.

Garland's

Thursday a Truly Remarkable

SUIT EVENT

Up to $15.00 New Spring Suits

$6.95

With costs higher than a cat's back, and rising higher every day, it's a strain and a struggle to provide such Suits as these at $6.95, but by dint of order and organization, and specialization, and determination we're doing it.

Taupe Silk Finish Poplin Suit, White Silk Overcollar, $6.95

In fact, we hold to it on principle rather than profit. The women of St. Louis expect more in value at Garland's than anywhere else, and we're going to see that they get it, even if we must do it at a loss of profit.

What kind of a Suit can you sell for $6.95? Well, this particular lot (there are less than 200 in all) are fashioned of silk finish poplin, mannish checks and serges.

The colors are navy and French blue, taupe, bottle green, black and white checks.

Better Suits, of course, are to be had—right here on our Third Floor—but no better ones anywhere at Six Ninety-Five. If your purse permits, and your taste insists on a Suit at $15.00, $20.00 or $30.00, remember, Garland values at such prices are supreme. When you pay more you get more.

FOR EXAMPLE, tomorrow several hundred of our better Suits, selling up to $59.50, are reduced.

Suits Formerly to $22.50, Now	Suits Formerly to $35.00, Now	Suits Formerly to $59.50, Now
$12.95	$18.75	$28.75

SUITS that will appeal to the woman who studies personality in dress, and seeks individuality.

There's nothing set or stereotyped about the styles. In fact there are as many distinguishing differences as there are types of women who wear them. The materials and colors, too, are as diversified as the styles. All the popular fabrics, in dark or light shades, silk or pique over-collars, smock vestees, braiding, buttons, etc.

Freckles and Blotches Are Easily Peeled Off

If you are bothered with any cutaneous blemish, it's a poor plan to use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, red blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is actually absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you would cream. Remove in the morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple, harmless treatment report astonishing results.—ADV.

ARMY APPEALS FOR SKILLED MEN IN DRAFT

Registrants Asked to Volunteer for Special Work by Saturday.

The War Department has appealed to men within the draft age to solve its problem of getting men skilled in trades and vocations for the army, where the need is urgent.

It has issued a "national want column," listing 65 trades and vocations and asking men within the draft age, who have skill in those trades and vocations, to volunteer for service before Saturday. The men are not to be enlisted as they volunteer, but lists will be made up April 27 and the intimation is that the men will be called shortly thereafter.

The adoption of this plan was made when it became apparent that the classification of draft age men by vocations from their questionnaires cannot be completed for some time.

The appeal has been made to the patriotic instincts of the drafted men. "Red-blooded Americans within the draft age, step forward," it reads. "Present yourselves to your local boards at the earliest possible moment and list your names for this service. Those who secure induction will receive material personal benefit which will aid them in the advancement of their army career and in later life. The offer is open only to men within the draft age. This offer will expire on April 27."

White registrants who have skill in the following pursuits are asked to volunteer:

Air brake inspectors, angle iron smiths, auto mechanics and helpers (general, engine, magneto or ignition), bargemen or boatmen, blacksmith helpers, boatbuilders and helpers, boiler makers and helpers, brakemen, flagmen or conductors (railroad), bricklayers, buglers, carpenters and helpers (ship, bridge, house, general), joiners or patternmakers, caulkers, wood, chauffeurs (auto, truck or tractor), chemists, clerks (railroad or general), cobblers, commissary storekeepers, concrete foremen or workers, cooks, cranemen, hoistmen, pile drivers or shovel operators, crusher operators, dispatchers, engine, draftsmen (general, surveying, machine design or topagraphical), engineers (civil, electrical, railroad or computing), engineers and firemen (locomotive), electricians (general, armature winder or wiremen), floor hands (shipyard), foremen, construction (bridge, building, earthwork, ship or railroad), foremen (gyratory or jaw crusher), gas plant workers, acetylene, hydrogen, oxygen, poison, illumination or compressor), gunsmiths or operatives in gun factories, hostlers, locomotive, inspectors, car (railroad); inspectors, locomotive, instrument makers and repairmen (engineering, optical or elecfrical), linemen (telegraph or telephone), machinists and helpers (general, bench, lathe or railroad), mechanics, general, meteorologists or physicists, mine or quarry workers and helpers, drill runners, foremen, powdermen or pumpmen, motor cyclists, molder, painters, photographers, plumbers or pipe fitters, rangers, forest, repairmen, car, riggers (bridge, building or ship), saddlers or harnessmakers, sailmakers, tentmakers, or other canvas workers, section hands (railroad), steersmen, sheet iron workers and helpers, solderers or tinsmiths, stenographers, surveyors, levelmen, transitmen (topographic or railroad), tailors, teamsters, telegraph operators, telephone operators, telephone operators who can speak German, timber cruisers wagonmakers, welders, acetylene or oxacetylene), wireless operators, yardmasters or switchmen.

Negro blachsmiths, buglers, bricklayers, carpenters, chauffeurs, clerks, and cooks will be accepted.

MRS. ELKINS GETS DIVORCE

Former Kansas City Woman Charged Son of Traction Man, Deserted Her.

LOS ANGELES, April 23 (Special).—A final decree of divorce was granted yesterday to Mrs. William Burton Elkins from Felton B. Elkins in the Supreme Court of Santa Barbara County. It was ante-dated just one year by the interlocutory decree granted by Supreme Judge Crow. Wilful desertion was charged. Elkins joined the army shortly after the outbreak of the war and is with the aviation corps with Gen. Pershing. Both are well known in Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Southern California. Mrs. Elkins established a hospital for babies in the war zone.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Felton B. Elkins is a son of the late William L. Elkins, street railway magnate of Philadelphia, and a grandson of former Senator C. N. Felton of California. Mrs. Elkins was Miss William Burton Oliver, a daughter of John C. Breckenridge Oliver of Kansas City and Louisville. Her marriage to Elkins was her second, her first, with Howard Kronowitz, having been annuled. At one time she conducted a millinery establishment in Louisville. It was on a trip to Rome, Italy, that she first met Elkins. They were married at Lakewood, N. J., Oct. 19, 1913.

FUNERAL FOR MISSOURI SOLDIER

CAMP MILLS, L. I., April 24 (Special). — The First Presbyterian Church at Hempstead, the oldest of its denomination in America, built 260 years ago, saw an impressive funeral service yesterday when rites were held for Private Fritz Chipp of the 139th Infantry, Missouri National Guard. Hundreds of persons, including residents of nearby towns, attended the service after hearing how the youth had re-enlisted after being honorably discharged after an operation.

Troops lined both sides of Fulton avenue as the procession, headed by the regimental band, marched from the church to the Hempstead depot, where taps were sounded by the regimental buglers as the train pulled out with Chipp's body, accompanied by his grandfather, W. O. Dunham, a wealthy cattleman of Pattonsburg, Mo., and a sergeant. Chipp, whose parents died in childhood, was adopted by his grandfather, W. O. Dunham. He entered the service at 22 and saw eight months' service. After an operation for appendicitis he was honorably discharged. When his recovery was complete he re-enlisted. He had been here only a few days when he contracted a severe cold. Dunham arrived at the base hospital a few hours before his grandson's death.

IDEAL OF PATRIOTISM AIDED BY INSURANCE

Mother Writes to Secretary McAdoo After Hearing From Sailor Son.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A Pennsylvania mother who has a son in the navy has written Secretary McAdoo as follows:

"I will state that I urged my only son—a mere lad—to enlist in the navy in 1914. I felt that this war was coming and I wanted him to be trained. Only God knows what it cost me to let him go, as I had just buried my idolized husband and was just recovering from typhoid fever myself. Hospital bills, etc., had taken nearly all I had, but I knew God would take care of my little girls and myself. I have given my brave, handsome boy to Uncle Sam, and my only regret is that I have not six to send instead of one, to fight for the flag that my father fought four years to save.

Not Afraid of Death.

"Although I do not know just how much insurance I will get, or allowance, I know it will help. In one letter my boy wrote thus:

"'Mother, I am not afraid to go into battle or to face a gun. If I have to give up my young life for my country I will do it gladly, but I can not sleep nights thinking what will become of my sweet little sisters and you.' Later he wrote: 'Today I am the happiest boy on the Atlantic, for the insurance bill has passed, and I am taking the full amount. Now I can face anything with a smile, knowing my loved ones will be cared for.'

"God grant he may return. May God and his angels forever bless you is a mother's daily prayer."

Secretary McAdoo's Reply.

This is the Secretary's reply:

"Owing to the extreme pressure of public business, I have not been able to acknowledge sooner your letter thanking the Government for its war insurance.

"Not your boy alone, but you and your two daughters as well, have joined the colors in the battle to save democracy. It is in genuine gratitude, therefore, that our great nation provides the liberal and far-sighted benefits of the military and naval insurance law.

"The lofty devotion of your son to his country and to his mother and little sister is equaled by your own noble patriotism. America is proud of you and your son, and I feel that it is a privilege to express my own admiration. Your spirit is the spirit of America—the spirit that makes America invincible."

NEW TRIAL FOR NEGRO TWICE CONVICTED OF KILLING MAN

Washington Higgins Not His Companion Night of Shooting, Says Man in Penitentiary.

Judge Davis today granted a new trial to Washington Higgins, a negro, 24 years old, of 2913 Lawton avenue, who at former trials has twice been sentenced to life imprisonment on a charge of shooting and killing Joseph Lively, a saloon keeper, in an attempted holdup near Ewing avenue and Pine street, Jan. 19, 1917.

Higgins and Robert Henderson, a negro, were arrested. Henderson was convicted and is now serving a life sentence at Jefferson City. A jury found Higgins guilty April 10, 1917. He obtained a new trial for the introduction of additional evidence. At this trial Ben Helton, Lively's bartender, testified that Lively knew Higgins, but at the hospital after the shooting he did not identify Higgins. Again Higgins was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Judge Davis, in granting another trial, based his action on a personal interview with Higgins and on a statement made by Henderson in the penitentiary. Henderson asserted that Higgins was not his companion on the night of the shooting. He said the man with him was a negro known as "Sonny" Bell, who closely resembles Higgins. Police investigation has shown that Bell disappeared about the time of the shooting.

CZERNIN GETS IRON CROSS

AMSTERDAM, April 24 (By A. P.).—Emperor William, according to a message form Vienna, has sent a telegram to Count Czernin, the retired Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, saying that during the Minister's term of office he always had maintained friendly relations "with my political councillors. During this period great problems have been tackled and by trustful co-operation they have been brought to a happy solution. For this I sincerely express to your excellency my warmest thanks."

In conclusion the German Emperor conferred upon Count Czernin the Iron Cross of the First Class.

AVIATOR "UP IN AIR" AS RESULT OF HIS MARRIAGE

His Sister Charged With Perjury in Swearing to Age of the Bride.

SAPULPA, Ok., April 24.—Figuratively speaking, Bronson Gibson, former Sapulpa newspaper man but now with the 280th Aero Squadron at Waco, Tex., is "up in the air."

Simultaneously with his return to that place after a short furlough here, the news of his marriage to Miss Moretta Parkins was made known when his sister, Mrs. Maggie Everage, was arrested on a charge of perjury. Mrs. T. W. Parkins, mother of the bride, swore to an information when she learned that the aviator's sister had sworn that her daughter was 18 years old in order to obtain a marriage license. Gibson and Miss Parkins were married by a Justice of the Peace and Gibson left at once for Waco. The bride is with her parents.

TWO KILLED AS RESULT OF FUMIGATION OF SHIP

Three Others Suffer From Fumes of Poison Used on the Regulus at Tacoma.

TACOMA, Wash., April 24.—Two members of the crew of the steamer Regulus are dead and two officers and a third member of the crew are suffering from asphyxiation as a result of the fumigation of the vessel as she was tied up at the Tacoma smelter dock.

Irving Reed, a seaman, went into the hold and rescued the two officers and two seaman, after they had been overcome by the fumes of sulphuric acid and cyanide of potassium.

When Seaman Anderson opened the hatches the fumes overcame him and he fell 40 feet into the hold. The first and second officers, Edwin Veretsen and George Johannesin, accompanied by two sailors, one of whom was Reed, went down to rescue him. The three were overcome in turn, and Reed brought them to the deck.

Efforts to save Anderson's life with a pulmotor failed. A second sailor whose name the ship's captain did not know, died on the way to a hospital.

To Every User of a Lehn & Fink Product

Lehn & Fink advertised products include Pebeco Tooth Paste, Lysol Disinfectant, Lysol Shaving Cream, Lysol Soap, etc.

THAT we have made merchandise which you have bought and used establishes a certain bond between us.

We have done our best for you. You have shown a confidence in us.

Today we have a message for you—different.

We urge you to buy Liberty Bonds; to invest all you can in the Third Liberty Loan.

If you have any respect for us as manufacturers, if you have any confidence in our goods or our word—if we have built up any foundation of good-will for our name or our trademark—we put it all on the table and ask you to believe that we value all that at nothing unless you are willing to heed our request that you get into this Third Loan with every dollar you can spare.

If there is a certain presumption in our leaning over the counter of our shop, so to speak, and insisting that you buy your Country's Bonds, why then, here we are, presumptuous.

We have put a lot of our money reserve into these Bonds and we are going to cast aside a little business reserve and tell you why we did, and why we think you should.

Germany must receive a complete military and political defeat. This defeat will be administered and the spirit that will do it will be our single-minded, unified determination to win.

It is going to take something of the feeling shown by John Paul Jones. Remember—his ship was burning and he kept her from sinking by sailing up and lashing the mizzen-mast of his ship to the jib-stay of his enemy's. His flag was shot away and the commander of the "Serapis" shouted to know if he had surrendered. Jones cupped his hands about his mouth and bellowed back, "Why, —— —— your soul, I have just begun to fight."

There never was born on earth the Kaiser, nor bred on earth the people that can prevail against that spirit.

Friends, we are just beginning to fight. Those other loans were "get ready" loans. The money bought guns and uniforms and ships and shells, and carried our men to France. This loan is a Fighting Loan. Like John Paul Jones, we have just begun to fight, and it is not on record that John Paul lost any time or spared any effort after he cast that profane but immortal defiance.

The time is past to talk of "needs" or "doing bits" or what we can afford.

Imagine that your civilian coat is the buff-tipped blue that Paul Jones wore. Imagine that your winter derby is his cocked hat. Then let your voice ring as his voice rang. Begin to fight. Buy those Bonds.

Ceremony Performed in West End Church at 9 O'Clock This Morning.

THE wedding of Miss Celeste Marie Schramm and Harold Sullivan was solemnized this morning at St. Rose's Church at 9 o'clock with the Rev. Father J. J. McGlynn officiating. Mrs. W. C. Julian L. Nugent, son of Mrs. Byron Nugent, 29 Westmoreland place, was married Feb. 16, at Wolf, Wyo., to Miss Vera Howard, daughter of Jesse Howard of Providence, R. I., according to an announcement in the April issue of the Social Register.

This is the second marriage of Nugent, who is 26 years old. He was married in March, 1913, in Wilmington, Del., to Miss Beatrice P. Smith of New York. They separated May 3, 1917, and Mrs. Nugent obtained a divorce last December on the ground that Nugent failed to support her, drank and was quarrelsome.

PLAN FOR MERGING EXPRESS COMPANIES TAKEN UP

Conference Held on Terms of Tentative Contract for Forming the Federal Company.

WASHINGTON, April 24 By A. P.).—Railroad administration officials and express company representatives today conferred on terms of a tentative contract under which the companies would be merged with capital of $34,000,000 to act as a Government agent in express business but without direct Government control. The railroads would take a little more than 50 per cent of express receipts or approximately the same proportion as under present conditions. Railroad administration officials estimate that the remainder would be sufficient to allow the united companies to pay 5½ to 6 per cent on the new capital stock. A name suggested for the new concern is the Federal Express Co.

The contract has not yet been presented to Director-General McAdoo for approval.

MOTHER AND GIRL DIE UNDER PUZZLING CIRCUMSTANCES

WENATCHEE, Wash., April 24.—Mrs. Mary C. Moore and her adopted daughter, Alice Terwado of Lamoine, Douglas County, died suddenly and under circumstances which have puzzled Waterville and Wenatchee physicians.

The daughter attended a Withrow school. During the forenoon she fell ill and went home. She complained of seeing doouble, and the mother remarked that she had a similar feeling. They were both taken to Waterville. The daughter died at the hospital and Mrs. Moore at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Schluenz.

An autopsy was held, but failed to disclose the cause of death, and a portion of the brain and stomach of each has been sent to Seattle for further investigation.

EVERYONE SHOULD DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Wash away all the stomach, liver and bowel poisons before putting more food into stomach.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, cold, rheumatism or gassy acid stomach you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—ADV.

The Right Laxative For The Little Ones---

The natural condition of a child is to be happy and carefree. When the girl mopes and is indifferent to school and study; or the boy is sullen and refuses to go out and play; the child needs a laxative to empty the bowels and stir up the liver.

But something should be given that will produce the result in as simple and natural a way as possible. Harsh cathartics and physics are neither necessary nor desirable.

Many mothers have found that the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin produces a free movement of the bowels without griping. A very little is required, and it is pleasant to take. A few hours after its use the child will be its happy self again.

It is an excellent remedy for the mother herself, and for the other members of the family, in obstinate or occasional constipation; for the relief of headaches, as an aid in colds and fevers, minor skin eruptions and all disorders where the basis of the trouble is constipation.

The druggist will refund the money you pay for Syrup Pepsin if it fails to do as promised.

WIRELESS OPERATOR WHO WAS SAVED FROM MANLEY IS HERE

Dwight Jenks Was About to Go On Duty When Collision Occurred; Unconscious When Rescued.

Dwight Jenks, who was a wireless operator on the U. S. destroyer Manley, when the Manley was sunk by a British warship off the coast of Ireland, is in St. Louis wearing a six-months' service stripe, awarded by Secretary of the Navy Daniels to the survivors of the Manley. Seventeen men were killed, 17 reported missing and 22 injured in the accident. The collision was followed by the explosion of depth bombs aboard the Manley.

Jenks was about to relieve the operator on duty when the crash came. "One explosion knocked me off my feet," he said. "It was followed at once by a second one and I remembered nothing thereafter until I awoke on the British warship that rammed us. They told me that a lifeboat had picked me from the water."

Jenks is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jenks, 1300 North Euclid avenue, on a 14-day furlough.

GERMAN-BORN U. S. CITIZENS URGED TO PLEDGE LOYALTY

Dr. Heller Proposes All Subscribe to Declaration of Hermann Hagedorn Jr., New York Poet.

"MANY NOT DISLOYAL, BUT ARE STUBBORN"

Asserts It Is Time to Let It Be Known Where They Stand—For Allies Since War Began.

A pledge of allegiance for Americans of German descent, written by Hermann Hagedorn Jr., a New York poet and playwright, is recommended for widespread use in St. Louis by Dr. Otto Heller, professor of German language and literature in Washington University. The pledge is:

I am an American citizen of German blood, believe in America, my country, and the principles of liberty, equality and democracy for which she stands. Therefore, and inevitably, I am against Germany. I wish to see my country victorious and Germany defeated. To the fulfillment of this wish I pledge my hands, my heart and my spirit.

"Many of our German-born citizens are not disloyal, but are stubborn, mulishly disposed, and somewhat shamefaced about making a definite avowal," Dr. Heller said today. "There has been a certain lack of leadership in the matter of loyalty. I lately read articles by Prof. Kuno Francke and some others, which I did not find satisfactory, and then I read Mr. Hagedorn's little book, which contains his pledge of loyalty, and the similar message of Otto Kahn. These are books of the right sort.

For Allies Since War Began.

"I have been an American citizen 26 years, and I have favored the cause of the Allies ever since the war began, not merely since America entered the war. I have not come out in public expression, because I have been waiting for bigger men to take the lead. They have been slow about doing this."

In an article written yesterday, Dr. Heller suggests that four-minute readers, as well as four-minute speakers, be used, to read to audiences, largely of German extraction, from the writings of Kahn, Hagedorn and other leaders in loyalty. He urges that the greatest care be taken to do justice in cases of suspected pro-Germanism, and that "amateur spy hunting, which was so strongly recommended to us by our alien friend, Mr. Harry Lauder," be avoided.

The time has come, Dr. Heller declares, when "any individual of German extraction who desires at this crisis to continue in the undisturbed enjoyment of his civil rights and the undiminished respect of his fellow-citizens, should be willing to make an open declaration of his convictions and sentiments, and should, in fact, be asked to do so." For such use, he recommends the Hagedorn pledge.

Leadership Lacking.

"The ostensible, albiet passive resistance on the part of many 'German-Americans' to the soul-stirring national enterprise of the hour," he writes, "has been due mainly to the deplorable total absence of spiritual leadership which has been the curse of the so-called 'German element' since the death of Carl Schurz. That clearness of insight and foresight which would have enabled men of the requisite stature to lead the masses of Germany's congenital sympathizers to an impartial and intelligent realization of the causes, issues and implications of this war of wars, even long before our country entered it, was never to be expected of the vociferous little sentimentalists who heeded those bulky but invertebrate and flabby organizations built up chiefly in the interest of German-American Philistia's holy trinity of B's: Beef, beer and 'backy.'

90 WOMEN ARE ARRESTED IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST VICE

Action Follows Chief Young's Conference With War Camp Community Service Official.

Ninety women were arrested last night in the police campaign against vice ordered by Chief Young, following a conference yesterday with Lieut. E. R. Beckwith of the United States Army, who came here from Washington as a representative of the National War Camp Community Service Board to investigate conditions in St. Louis.

The police blamed the leniency of the police courts for the large number of such women here, citing figures to show that out of several hundred arrested recently only 10 per cent were convicted. Lieut. Beckwith yesterday sat in Judge Hogan's court, where a keeper of a house was fined $200 and nine inmates were fined $10 each.

ENDS LIFE AFTER GIRL'S DEATH

DETROIT, Mich., April 24 (By A. P.).—Helmuth Schmidt of Royal Oak, a suburb, arrested on a charge of murder in connection with the disappearance of Miss Augusta Steinback, who came here from New York in answer to a matrimonial advertisement, killed himself in jail yesterday, after making a statement in which he said the girl took her own life on learning that he was a married man. He admitted, however, according to the authorities, that he burned her body and buried the ashes.

Schmidt killed himself by lifting the iron bed in his cell and crashing it down upon his head.

Stolen Papers Found in Auto.

A wallet containing valuable papers, stolen with an overcoat from the automobile of Jack C. F. Darnell, was found yesterday afternoon in the automobile of George A. Rawlings, 2668 North Euclid avenue, an hour after it had been taken from Darnell's car. Rawlings' machine was parked at Twelfth and Olive streets and the theft occurred at Sixth and Olive streets. The overcoat has been recovered.

How can you save wool?

"Economy in the consumption of all the things needed by the nation for the winning of the war—the releasing of labor and materials from the pursuits of peace to the business of war—these fundamental necessities of our war program must be understood by all our people if we are to put our whole strength behind our men in France."

(From a statement by the Secretary of the Treasury, published in the Chicago Tribune.)

SAVING wool is one of the things the country needs, and it's one of the things you can do The best way to save wool is to stop wasting it; fabrics that don't give long wear are not economy; they're waste

The economy is in the service that all-wool fabrics give; such clothes wear so much longer, and look so much better, that even at the higher price they cost less, and waste less

That's why we make our clothes of all-wool fabrics; they save in service Our label is the sign; a small thing to look for, a big thing to find

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. Representatives of the growers have been here since Saturday and wool merchants were called into conference yesterday by the committee.

The growers, it is said, will be assured sufficient profit to stimulate production, while the dealers will be guaranteed a small margin of profit.

GIRL, 9, KILLED BY AUTO DRIVEN BY BOY

Rose Hoffman Was Crossing Street When 16-Year-Old Driver's Machine Hit Her.

Rose Hoffman, 9 years old, of 1413 Franklin avenue, while crossing the street in the middle of the block near her home at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, was run down and killed by an automobile driven by Eugene Scheffels Jr., 16 years old, of 5064 Delmar boulevard.

Her death was the thirty-second automobile fatality in St. Louis since Jan. 1, as compared with 15 automobile fatalities in the corresponding period of last year.

The automobile, owned by Meyer Meyerson, furniture dealer at 1017 Franklin avenue, was occupied by Mrs. Meyerson and her young son.

Scheffels, who is employed by a motor car company, was driving east. Witnesses said the girl was crossing Franklin avenue from the south side to the north side. She stepped from behind an automobile parked in front of 1418 Franklin avenue, opposite her home, directly into the path of the Meyerson car.

Scheffels was arrested. He insists the accident was unavoidable.

Mrs. Carrie Johansmeyer, 47, of 3125 Meramec street, and Garrett Flanigan, 34, a chauffeur, were knocked from a motor truck when it collided with an automobile driven by Earl Hoffman, 2925 Lafayette avenue, at Gravois avenue and Utah street, in the afternoon. Both were cut on the head and face.

Galloup was towing the disabled automobile of Edward H. Berweck, 3852 Russell avenue, and Sexton drove between the two cars.

Lawrence Gray, 12, of 11A South Fourteenth street, was hit by a motor truck at Ewing and Laclede avenues in the evening. His right foot was crushed. The driver did not stop.

MRS. STOKES' TRIAL MAY 20

Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Espionage Act Violation.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24 (By A. P.).—Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, lecturer, and wife of the wealthy Socialist, J. G. Phelps Stokes of New York, was arraigned before Judge Van Valkenburgh yesterday and pleaded not guilty following her indictment on three counts for alleged violation of the espionage act. Her trial was set for May 20. Bond was fixed at $10,000, which was furnished for Mrs. Stokes by a surety company. Stokes was in court.

The indictment of Mrs. Stokes was based on a letter sent by her to the Kansas City Star in which she said: "No Government which is FOR the profiteers can also be FOR the people and I am for the people, while the Government is for the profiteers."

Jacob Frohwerk, formerly of the Missouri Staats Zeitung, who was indicted on 13 counts for violation of the espionage act, also pleaded not guilty, when arraigned. Carl Gleeser, indicted with him, did not appear.

A Word About Trusts

Capital without management is in jeopardy. The need for keeping capital safe evolved the trust. It brings the conserving forces of prudence, judgment and experience to the protection of accumulated means.

If, then, the capital of your wife and children is to require management; and if you expect to select and prescribe that management rather than to leave it to chance—you should do so through the medium of a trust.

The St. Louis Union Trust Co. is peculiarly fitted for Trusteeship. Its officers were chosen especially and trained for this work.

The judgment demanded for the management of its own large affairs determines the management of every estate entrusted to its care.

Any of the officers below will be glad to discuss this matter with you confidentially and without charge.

DUBLIN, April 23 (By A. P.).—The Lord Mayor of Dublin announces that he has applied to Foreign Secretary Balfour for passports for himself and his secretaries in order that they may proceed to Washington (to present to President Wilson a statement of Ireland's case against conscription).

The anti-conscription conference assembled at the Mansion House yesterday afternoon, the Lord Mayor presiding. The conference expressed satisfaction over the response of the workers to the call of the labor congress delegates to cease work. The streets were crowded late tonight, but there were no disturbances, the closing of the saloons contributing to the preservation of order. Belfast and Ulster generally were not affected, the observance of the holiday being confined to nationalist Ireland.

MARINES WANT 750 MEN HERE IN MAY, NAVY, 1000

Preparations Made for Vigorous Campaign for Enlistments in This District in Both Branches of Service.

BRANCH OFFICES THROUGHOUT STATE

Six Bands Made Up From Great Lakes Organization Will Tour Missouri in Interest of Recruiting.

Preparations are being made for a vigorous campaign for enlistments in the United States navy and the Marine Corps, beginning this week and continuing through May.

The Marine Recruiting Station here needs 115 men to fill out its estimated quota between now and May 1, and it purposes to get 750 in May.

The navy recruiting office here estimates its quota for May at 1000.

Officers of both branches are very anxious that they be not confused. It is pointed out that there is no more connection between the navy and the marines than between the army and the marines. The Marine Recruiting Station is in the Fullerton Building, Seventh and Pine streets, and the navy station is in the Calumet Building, Seventh and Chestnut streets.

The marines' district comprises this State. The navy district includes all the State except two western counties, and includes St. Clair and Madison Counties, Illinois. The marines' station here is one of the foremost in recruiting, while the naval station is far down on the list.

To Open Branch Offices.

Branch offices will be opened by the marines this week in Jefferson City, Cape Girardeau, Columbia, Rolla, Moberly and Poplar Bluff, and by the navy at Hannibal, East St. Louis and Alton. The marines will send 20 recruiting officers over the State, each stopping seven days in each small town. A special detail of navy recruiting officers will accompany the Liberty Loan parties that will tour the State.

There will be 150 to 175 members of the Great Lakes Naval Band in the city this week, and it will play on the streets here, after which it will be divided into six smaller bands, that will tour the State in the interest of recruiting and selling Liberty Bonds.

There is a warm contest for supremacy between the St. Louis recruiting district of the marines and the Chicago district. This district now leads the country in recruiting, both numerically and in proportion to the population. It has supplied, since war began, 3822 men. The Chicago district has about 300 less.

Last month the states of Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska were detached from Missouri. All four states had been in the same district. Due to extra efforts, however, instead of the district's figures falling, Missouri has since supplied more men than the four states combined had previously supplied, as an average.

The population of the Chicago district now is 8,300,000, and that of the St. Louis district 3,500,000. However, marine enlistments here this year number 865, and in Chicago district 371. For this month the figures are: St. Louis district, 198; Chicago, 161.

Navy Recruiting Picks Up.

In recruiting for the navy, however, it is a different story. St. Louis was ninth last year, and was still lower, if computed in proportion to the population. The number enlisted was 4079. The record promises to improve this year, 883 having enlisted up to this week, with the number steadily increasing, following a slump during the first few weeks of the year.

The marine recruiting offices all over the country have been instructed from Washington that 8000 recruits are wanted in May, a new brigade and replacements having been authorized. It was announced, at the same time, that prospective recruits should be told that officers for the marines will be drawn exclusively from the ranks, and that hard work and merit will be the sole means of obtaining commissions.

It is also pointed out that Marines are now in service in France, China, Japanese waters, Philippines, Guam, Mexican border, Russia and the West Indies, and that the chances of recruits visiting some or all of these places are good.

Recruiting officers state that any Class 1 man not in a current quota can enlist in either the navy or the marine corps.

Navy recruiting officers are pointing out that there will be no lack of action for those who go to sea. Transports are being manned, new destroyers launched, merchant marine ships fitted with armed guards, and submarine infested waters patrolled.

It is estimated that the average sailor or marine receives pay equivalent to $100 a month for a civilian subject to ordinary living expenses. The age limit in the navy is 18 to 44 years; in the marines, 18 to 36.

CARSON ISSUES LETTER OF PROTEST AGAINST HOME RULE

Recalls Sequence of Events in Relation to Ulster's Position and Government Action.

LONDON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader, in a letter to the press, says:

"The Governments are on the point of introducing a home rule bill and have threatened to leave their posts in the hour of national danger unless it is carried into law. The Prime Minister says that any pledges which stood in the way are to be scrapped because the war has lasted longer than was expected by those who gave them.

"It may perhaps lead to a clearer understanding of the position in which Ulster is placed by this announcement to recall the sequence of events in relation thereto since 1914."

Sir Edward then reviews in detail the history of Ireland during the war, his recital being devoted to showing that the Government has broken a number of pledges to Ulster that no attempt would be made to force Ulster into a home rule scheme and that even when the convention met the Government gave an undertaking that legislation would be introduced if a substantial agreement was reached and there could be no substantial agreement unless the representatives were assenting parties.

"The Prime Minister will admit no substantial agreement has been reached and the Ulster delegates in a separate report tell us that no agreement was reached on any point of importance. Yet Mr. Lloyd George announces the introduction of a home rule bill for the whole of Ireland, which it is generally assumed will be based on the majority report from which the Ulster delegates unanimously dissented.

"Such is the story. The moral I will not attempt to draw."

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack or sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

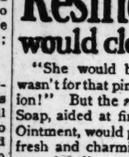

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—ADV.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength) and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—ADV.

ARMY COOKS ALSO TAUGHT BOOKKEEPING

They Must Know How to Keep Accounts as Well as to Bake Potato Bread.

CAMP GRANT, ROCKFORD, Ill., April 24.—How to feed the fighter as well as how to fight is being taught at Camp Grant in the school for cooks and bakers commanded by Capt. James H. Berry. More than 50 men who have been graduated from Capt. Berry's school are in France, cooking and baking for Pershing's men.

The aim of this school is to prepare food in such a manner that it will put brawn and muscle on the soldier and prepare him to stand hard knocks whatever they may be. It is also intended to teach the men how to "Hooverize," although the camp never has had any meatless or wheatless days.

Sergt. Alfred Shoemake, whose home is in La Salle, being asked for a recipe for a "war cake" which housekeepers may use economically, gave the following, which is eggless, butterless and milkless: 1 cup brown sugar, 2 cups raisins, 1 cup hot water, ½ cup lard, ½ teaspoonful nutmeg, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon, ½ teaspoonful salt. Boil five minutes, and when cold add one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in warm water. Sift two cups of flour and half a teaspoonful of baking powder. Stir the whole mixture thoroughly and bake in a moderately hot oven one hour and 15 minutes.

Shoemake is experimenting all the time. Today he said he intended to try a carrot pudding on the boys. If they like it they will get more of it. If they don't they won't, for it is bad policy in the army to give soldiers food they don't like. It makes them go to restaurants and eat meals that are not always prepared with a view to the needs of fighting men, and may cause an upsetting of the stomach which will give hospital officers work to do.

There are 268 men in Capt. Berry's school now learning how to cook and bake and there have been 800 graduated. They learn to cook everything from soup to pastry, and mother might be able to get a lot of pointers from her son on war bread, garrison bread and potato bread, of which there were for a time being baked 20,000 loaves a day. The course takes two months and includes instructions in bookkeeping by which account of the quantity of food used is kept by all the mess sergeants.

The men are taught how to select meats, which pieces to boil, which to fry and which to roast.

THREE ST. LOUISANS NAMED IN LIST FOR COMMISSIONS

Are Among Successful Men in Training Camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—The Adjutant-General today gave out a list of those soldiers who qualified for commissions as Second Lieutenants at the third officers' training camp held at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. These men will be carried on the list of eligible officers and commissioned when vacancies occur. Among those who qualified are the following:

Samuel C. Richards, 2410 North Grand avenue, St. Louis; infantry.

Joseph W. Schmidt, 5040 Alaska avenue, St. Louis; infantry.

Julius W. Woodward, 6233 Westminster place, St. Louis; infantry.

Harry F. Allen, Oak Ridge, Mo.; infantry.

Edmund H. Anderson, Brookfield, Mo.; infantry.

William Cadwallader, Kansas City, Mo.; infantry.

Jean L. Speak, Cape Girardeau, Mo.; infantry.

Ralph M. Taylor, Hargio, Mo.; field artillery.

Hal W. Wages, Collins Mound, Mo.; infantry.

Julius W. Woodward is 34 years old and a brother of Walter B. and Louis B. Woodward, president and vice president, respectively, of the Woodward-Tiernan Printing Co. He enlisted a year ago shortly after the entry of the United States into the war as a private in the regular army. He had received previous military training as a student at Culver Military Academy.

Two Missourians among the graduates of the Third Officers' Training Camp, Camp Gordon, Ga., are Ernest W. Cleverdon, field artillery, 5069 Page boulevard, St. Louis, and Paul Megown, infantry, 1331 Eagle street, Hannibal. They will be carried on the list of eligible officers and commissioned as Second Lieutenants when vacancies occur.

Cleverdon is a son of John R. Cleverdon and is 23 years old. He enlisted in the signal corps last October and was sent to Camp Gordon.

$1000 Raised for Red Cross at Famous-Barr Dance.

More than $1000 was raised for the Red Cross at a dance given under the auspices of the Famous and Barr Welfare Association at Arcadia Hall, Olive street near Grand avenue, last night. In addition to the gate receipts the association workers obtained funds by selling flowers and checking wraps. About 3000 persons attended the dance. A number of features were arranged, including exhibition toe and fancy dancing by members of the association. The hall was decorated in the national colors.

Charge Against Pen Company.

It is charged that the respondent has refused to sell its products to dealers who do not agree to maintain the fixed price. Hearing was set for June 7.

Red Blood for Popularity

A woman of sparkling personality is usually a woman of glowing health and bounding vitality. Such qualities spring from rich, red blood as surely as weakness, dull-eyed listlessness, and ennui result from thin, sluggish blood. No woman need remain in such a condition.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan

"The Red Blood Builder"

will help her. Gude's Pepto-Mangan tones up the system, increases the appetite, improves the color, and fills the veins with rich, red blood. Gude's Pepto-Mangan starts its work of reconstruction at the blood's very foundations—the red cells. It increases their number and oxygen-carrying capacity. And with oxygen—the breath of life—properly distributed to all parts of the system, you can't help but be wholly alive in every cell and tissue. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is easy to digest and exceedingly pleasant to taste. Thousands of men, women, and children have been greatly benefited by it.

29 CONVICTED IN HINDU REVOLT PLOT

Former German Consular Officers in California Included; Double Killing in Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24 (By A. P.).—Sentence will be pronounced next Tuesday by Federal Judge Van-fleet on 29 persons, Hindus, former German consular officers, business men and others who were found guilty by a jury early this morning of conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States through plots to foment revolution against British rule in India.

Thirty were on trial and the only verdict of "not guilty" was returned in the case of John F. Craig, head of the Craig shipbuilding yards, Long Beach, Cal.

The German defendants were not entitled to bail, the Court ruled, and the following were ordered interned pending sentence:

Franz Bop, former German Consul-General at San Francisco; E. H. von Schack, Vice Consul; Charles Tattendorff, "bodyguard" to Wilhelm von Brincken, military attache of the German consulate; Walter Sauerback, navigating officer of the German gunboat Geier; Capt. Edwin de Inat, commander of the steamer "Holsatia," German merchantman interned at Honolulu; Capt. Heinrich Elba, commander of the steamer "Ahlers," German merchantman interned at Hilo, and Henry Kauffman, Chancellor of the German consulate.

Defendants' Bail Fixed.

The bail of each Hindu defendant was fixed at $25,000.

The remaining defendants and their bail was announced as follows:

J. Clyde Hysar, San Diego, Cal., City Atorney of Coronado, Cal., and former paymaster of the United States Naval Militia, $15,000.

Joseph L. Bley, member of a local brokerage firm, $15,000.

Bernard Mannm, San Diego, realty man and politician, $25,000.

Robert Capello, local agent of the North German Lloyd Steamship Co., $25,000.

Harry J. Hart, wealthy San Francisco shipping broker, $15,000.

Norris Stock von Goltzheim, local real estate and insurance man, $25,000.

Louis T. Hengstler, San Francisco, admiralty lawyer, $15,000.

Double Killing in Court.

Public interest in the trial was sharply focused by a dramatic incident in the courtroom yesterday when Ram Singh, a Hindu defendant, shot and killed Rom Chandra, a co-defendant. Ram Singh was in turn killed by a bullet from the revolver of United States Marshal James B. Holohan, who fired over the heads of the panic-stricken crowd that was filing from the court room just prior to the noon recess.

Rom Chandra was editor of Hindustan "Chadre" (Revolution).

The shooting was the result of a feud among rival factions of the Hindu defendants, Federal authorities said, and the dislike that existed between Rom Chandra and Ram Singh had been heightened by a controversy over a parcel of land in Canada owned by Singh.

NO TIME PAYMENTS FOR U. S. INCOME AND EXCESS TAXES

Treasury Department States It Is Impossible to Grant Concessions Business Interests Desired.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (By A. P.).—Hopes of business interests that the Treasury might indorse pending legislation providing for installment payments of income and excess profits taxes were dimmed by an announcement that the Government's finances will not permit installment payments on both taxes and Liberty Loan Bonds.

Referring to reports that corporations and other big businesses were withholding Liberty Loan subscriptions because of the necessity of using all their cash resources to meet tax payment June 15, a Treasury statement said:

"The Treasury Department has been importuned to make it possible for those institutions to pay these taxes on the installment plan so that the burden of assisting the Government in its financial program may be distributed through a longer period of time. The Treasury Department explains that it is impossible to grant this privilege both in connection with the payment of taxes and in connection with the purchase of Liberty Bonds. It calls attention to the fact that potential Liberty Bond subscribers who find themselves hampered for cash by taxation requirements may purchase bonds on the instalment plan and either through an arrangement with their bankers or by taking advantage of the partial payments provided by the Government affecting bonds of the Third Liberty Loan."

Treasury Department officials expressed the hope that these firms and individuals will make use of the installment privilege in the purchase of bonds to make possible the attainment of a heavy oversubscription of the Third Liberty Bonds.

Railroad employes have received copies of a circular letter from Secretary McAdoo, in which he says the commission that has been investigating wages paid railroad employes will report May 4. It virtually promises that at least some employes will receive increases, and says: "Whatever increases may be granted will have accumulated in the form of savings." Raises that are granted will be effective as from Jan. 1 last.

The Director-General states that he will promptly review the report, and will make decisions based on the commission's findings. He urges railroad employes to buy bonds of the Third Liberty Loan.

CORD TIRES

We took the cord tire and put Kelly-Springfield mileage in it—and made Kelly-Springfield Cords.

None of the good points of cord construction was lost. Kelly Cords are light on their feet. You can push a heavy car all over the garage floor with one hand when it has its Kelly Cords on. This easy riding goes with a construction strong enough to stand harder wear than you will ever give a tire.

We tested 500 Kelly Cords on cars weighted up to 5200 pounds, running day and night over mid-winter roads. The average mileage was 11,725 for rear wheels; 14,000 for front wheels; 12,000 miles all around.

Two treads—grooved and non-skid.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA EFFECTIVE IN SWEDEN

Magazine and Movie Films Try to Popularize Deeds of Germans in War.

STOCKHOLM, April 18 (By A. P.).—German propaganda in Sweden and other Scandinavian nations no longer is ill-directed or inefficient, in the opinion of the statesmen of the countries in which it operates. On the contrary, it challenges even unwilling admiration in Sweden for its completeness and effectiveness.

In the early days of the war the Entente Powers and America extracted considerable amusement from German methods of propaganda for the reason that they seemed to be based on an almost absolute failure to understand the psychology of the non-Germanic peoples.

Undeterred by earlier failures the Germans have kept at work here and have organized a system of propaganda which is regarded as tireless, intelligent and, without a doubt, effective.

The organization centers around three undertakings, all organized by Germans but, in accordance with Swedish law, directed by Swedes. These are the magazine Jorden Rundt (The World Around), the Picture Central and the Polar Star Biograph.

All three undertakings are housed in the same quarters. The exploits of the German army are graphically illustrated by word, by picture and cinema films. Gigantic maps, with events kept up almost to the hour, show the progress of the German armies. The newest bulletins are displayed. Visitors are loaded with pamphlets and books, some of them of such character that they form permanent additions to a reference library. Whenever a German soldier does some individual act of kindness a cinema operator is there to record it and the Swedish patrons of the Polar Star have opportunity to admire it.

Two large printing firms turn out vast quantities of pamphlets, with which the Swedes are inundated.

The German legation has trained journalists on its staff, and Baron Lucius, the Minister, is himself a keen, wide-awake individual, fully alive to the value of printer's ink and alert to seize every opportunity to make propoganda or to explain anything that needs explanation. As an instance of this may be cited the fact that, some weeks ago, when the morning papers published Trotzky's expose of Germany's attitude toward the Aland Islands, the noon papers of the same day contained a columnlong article by Baron Lucius, full of clever casuistry and forming, for the uncritical reader, a complete answer to Trotzky.

This is but one of scores of similar instances. Lucius' relations to the press—and not merely to the pro-German press—are most friendly, and he is always sure of a sympathetic hearing, whether the other party is in agreement with him or not

To dam this flood of propaganda the Allied Powers offer comparatively little. Since America entered the war an effort has been made from Washington to secure adequate publication in Sweden of important speeches by President Wilson and other leaders, and reports of important decisions of different bodies, progress or recruiting, etc. These efforts, and particularly as regards speeches, are foredoomed to failure by the fact that the speeches are cabled too late.

President Wilson's speeches have reached Sweden from two to four days after summaries of them had been received here. No Swedish editor, after having used a 500-word summary will, half a week later, devote much space to the text of the same speech.

Policeman, Long Ill, Dies.

Former Patrolman James Hunt, 57 years old, of 4042 Carter avenue, died at his home today from dropsy. He had been ill for eight months, and three months ago was dropped from the rolls on account of his physical decline. He was a brother of Detective Sergt. Thomas Hunt, Patrolman Martin Hunt and the late Patrolman Nicholas Hunt, who was shot and killed several years ago by "St. Paul Kid." James Hunt's beat was in the negro section of the Carr Street District.

Strikers Go Back to Work.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24.—Three thousand members of the building trades unions, out on strike for a month, returned to work today on contracts estimated to total $7,000,000. The members of the building trades struck a month ago when the general strike was called to assist striking laundry drivers and workers. They did not return to work when the general strike was settled, hoisting engineers and iron workers being unable to come to an agreement with the employers until yesterday.

WIFE SUES PSEUDO ARMY OFFICER FOR DIVORCE

Alleges He Represented Himself to Be a Nephew of Williams Jennings Bryan.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 24.—William A. Jennings, alias Warren G. Gray, whose real name is alleged to be Elman McCann, has been served with papers in divorce proceedings instigated by Mrs. Rebie Wilkins Jennings. Jennings was presented with the papers at the penitentiary, where he is serving a year and a day on Federal charges.

Mrs. Wilkins charges in her petition that her husband represented himself to be an officer in the United States army, and a nephew of William Jennings Bryan, and that after a short and romantic courtship she married him.

The honeymoon was rudely interrupted on their arrival in New York city, where the groom was arrested charged with impersonating an officer and passing worthless checks.

Fraud and deception are the grounds given in the suit.

Dairyman Bound and Robbed.

Mike Mamajka, a Hungarian, who runs a dairy on the Burlington road, between Carrie and Humboldt avenues, told the police that a robber had come to his house at 5:30 a. m. today, held a revolver to his head, bound his mouth with a handkerchief, his hands and feet with rope and had taken $14 from the kitchen cupboard.

DOT.—You are allowed to protect your own garden from pigeons and other nuisances. No pigs within city limits.

INSULTED.—Talk with Prosecuting Attorney. Municipal Courts bldg., about the man who falsely calls you a German spy.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain.

The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

Chester Kent & Co., Chemists. Vinol is sold in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. and by all other drug stores that display the Vinol agency sign, and at the best drug store in every town and city in the country.—ADVERTISEMENT.

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author Says

EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER EVERY DAUGHTER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES

To help strengthen her nerves and put color into her cheeks

There can be no beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women without iron. The trouble in the past has been that when women needed iron they generally took ordinary metallic iron, which often corroded the stomach and did more harm than good. I always insist that my patients take only organic iron—Nuxated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard-looking women in ten days' time in many instances. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.—Ferdinand King, M.D.

NOTE: NUXATED IRON recommended by Dr. Ferdinand King can be obtained from any good druggist who will guarantee satisfaction or your money back if it is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

MAN DENIED SUNDAY BATH SEEKS DIVORCE

Schmidt Also Alleges That His Wife and Her Father Beat Him.

CHICAGO, April 27.—Carl H. Schmidt, chief safety engineer of the Continental Casuality Co., has a divorce suit against Hazel Schmidt, who is 25 years old, and one for alienation of affections—$50,000 worth—against his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wallace of 5354 Glenwood avenue.

A number of allegations are made. The "mistreated husband" charges that his father-in-law "trimmed him repeatedly." He says he wasn't allowed to take a bath on Sunday, he wasn't permitted to smoke in his own home, his wife beat him, and the family had "gone crazy over spiritualism."

According to the bill, Schmidt was ordered to stay away from his home three nights of the week—for on those evenings the spirits talked and he scared the spirits away. The family sat around a glass bowl filled with water and one of them held a tin trumpet, while the "spirits" did their act, says the bill.

One night, the plaintiff asserts, he took two friends to his home and they smoked. His father-in-law, Wallace, who is alleged to be worth $500,000, ordered the smoking stopped.

"Not only ordered, but stopped it, and handled the plaintiff roughly," says the bill. "The plaintiff was not permitted the pleasure of a Sunday morning splash in the tub, and at times his wife attacked him and beat him."

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and their daughter refused to discuss the matter last night. Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt were married in 1913 and they separated last Friday, "following a terrible trouncing of the plaintiff by the father-in-law," says the bill.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MANAGER GETS GIFT OF $25,000

Liberty Bonds Presented to Melville E. Stone in Honor of His 25 Years of Service.

NEW YORK, April 24 (By A. P.).—In honor of Melville E. Stone, for 25 years general manager of the Associated Press, the members of that association made their annual meeting here yesterday an occasion for paying tribute to his services.

On behalf of the directors an illuminated volume entitled, "M. E. S. His Books," a work intended to set forth in permanent form the record of Mr. Stone's service, life and activities, was presented to Stone. Members of the Associated Press had also caused to be inserted in the book, in loose form, what were described by President Frank B. Noyes as very beautiful impressions of steel engravings, being 25 $1000 Liberty Bonds, "Millenium milestones, as it were of each of 25 golden years."

Victor F. Lawson of the Chicago Daily News, Adolph S. Ochs of the New York Times and Gen. Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe gave Stone the chief credit for the success of the Associated Press.

GIRL GRAND JURY WITNESS IN PRAGER LYNCHING INQUIRY

Was on Interurban Car Going Into Collinsville That Met Mob Taking Man to Scene of Hanging.

Miss Maida Gilmore, 18 years old, was the first witness summoned today at Edwardsville by the grand jury investigating the lynching April 5, at Collinsville, of Robert Paul Prager.

She was on an interurban car, going into Collinsville, that met the mob as it took Prager to the scene of the lynching, and it was said that the prosecution intended to ask her if she saw her father at that time. Mrs. Calvin Gilmore, the mother, told a reporter that her husband was at home when the lynching occurred.

Sixteen additional witnesses were called today, making a total of about thirty-five, and it appeared doubtful that the grand jury would report before late Friday.

MILLION POPULATION CLUB FOR ANNEXATION OF WELLSTON

Will Make Proposition Its Chief Activity for Next Two Years, Secretary Says.

Plans for bringing about the annexation of Wellston to the City of St. Louis were discussed today at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Million Population Club at the Missouri Athletic Association.

Otto F. Karbe, secretary, said that the club would make the Wellston annexation its chief activity for the next two years. A bill to annex Wellston failed in the last Legislature after passage in the House. It met the opposition of St. Louis County officeholders, Karbe said.

'GENERAL NO ACCOUNTNESS,' PLEA

Seattle Woman Gets Divorce Only on Testimony of Cruelty, However.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 27.—Judge J. T. Pendleton informed the divorce jury in the Superior Court that "general no-accountness" is not a ground for divorce.

After this statement, made during the trial of the suit of Mrs. Lena D. Warren against John Warren, the plaintiff recited many acts of cruelty that won her a divorce.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Men in Deferred Classes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In a four-minute talk at one of the theaters last Tuesday night, the Rev. Cleaveland took occasion to censure the registrant for the draft who claims deferred classification and thereby permits others to do his fighting for him, in effect branding such a registrant less than 100 per cent American.

By his attack on the loyalty of men in the deferred classes, the Rev. Cleaveland shows himself not to be in harmony with the spirit and intention of the selective service law. The public generally has no fault to find with the system, for example, of placing a man with a family solely dependent on his earnings for support in a deferred class, or to censure such a man for claiming deferred classification on those grounds. This is generally true of the other exemption grounds. The man who makes a false claim is a slacker of the worst type, but the local and district boards are giving their undivided attention to this class of individuals.

It would seem that the Four-Minute Men, in the performance of their highly commendable and patriotic service, could find subjects of more importance than censuring men of draft age who have been placed in the deferred classes. These victims of circumstances are in a majority of cases as ready to assume patriotic duties as are the men in class 1. GLEN MOHLER,
Government Attorney, Ward 27.

French Losses in the War.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have seen it stated several times in the papers lately that M. Tardieu, French High Commissioner to the United States, says that during the war the French have lost in killed 1,300,000 and about 1,000,000 in wounded and prisoners.

If M. Tardieu says this, he is talking through his chapeau. Never in any war in modern times has the number of killed been greater than the number wounded, not to mention the number of prisoners. Gen. Haig's official reports of his casualties during his fierce offensive last summer and fall gave his losses weekly at from about 25,000 to 27,000, of which from about 5000 to 6000 were killed, or about one in five of the casualties. This may be taken as a high average and at this rate if the French have had 1,300,000 killed, their total casualties must have been about 6,500,000, which is more men than they have had in the army altogether, and is more than one-seventh of the entire population of France. And it has been reliably stated lately that the French army is stronger today than it ever was.

What M. Tardieu probably said, or meant, was that the total casualties of the French army had been 1,300,000, which would be nearer the truth. X.

Advice to Poultry Raisers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Referring to your editorial of yesterday, "Egg Production for Invalids," you should make your advice on the subject of egg production practical, so that every city dweller with a back yard could take hold of it and make his own egg supply during the laying season. Everything generally connected with chicken raising in the country not necessary to egg producing and egg producing alone, should be eliminated from the plan of the city producer.

For instance, there should be no "crowing rooster." The rooster is for breeding and the back yard egg producer should not attempt to raise chickens.

To overcome the matter of restrictions buy or build a practical portable laying house.

Any time from Nov. 15 to May 1 purchase 10 to 20 pullets. Feed is feed of grain once a day and the edible garbage, chopped and heated, once a day. Be careful to eliminate inedible garbage which litters up the place and adds to the objections.

Feed grain or commercial hen feed down to the exact amount that will be consumed and keep close track of the cost. Your fresh eggs should not cost you over 20 cents per dozen. Kill off the hens as the moulting season approaches, in late August or September, and replenish with pullets in November. Meanwhile, clean up for a fresh start. For this purpose the Mediterranian varieties are most desirable because they do not brood excessively.

The "10-hen" movement in Great Britain would furnish a good guide for such a plan. Get rid of all of the unnecessary adjuncts and show the city dweller how to do the necessary things successfully.

If they bother the garden, keep them up until 4 o'clock, which will keep them so busy chasing grasshoppers, etc., that they will not hurt the garden.

IRELAND COMPARED WITH BELGIUM.

"Ireland has no grievance against Germany," says one Irish-American irreconilable. And he compares Ireland with Belgium, asserting that England has no more right to expect Ireland to fight for her than Germany has to ask Belgium to fight for her.

These are samples of the logic that keeps Ireland in hot water and prevents her from attaining the object on which she has set her heart for 700 years—home rule.

Ireland has no grievance against Germany, though thousands of Irish boys lie in unmarked graves in Flanders and France, victims of Prussian ambition for conquest, and though Prussianism is trying to wreck the world in order to enslave it.

And while the Belgian people have been starved, outraged and slaughtered, their industries ruined, their homes desolated and some of their cities razed to the ground by Prussia, Ireland, under British rule, has flourished. Only last fall a Post-Dispatch correspondent at Dublin wrote: "The provost of Trinity College, Dr. Mahaeffy, tells me that Ireland was never so rich. The farmers never reaped so large a harvest of gold nor have mechanics before received such high wages." No German destroyers, Zeppelins or war planes have terrorized, shelled or bombed Irish cities. And, while sitting at home in peace and plenty, beyond sound or sign of war, Irish fanatics have cynically asked, referring to suffering London: "Which is the great city, referred to in the apocalypse, that will be completely destroyed in one day?"

Ireland ought to have home rule. And if her people could agree, she would have it now. The recent Irish convention, including representatives of the Nationalist party, Unionists of Ulster and Unionists of South Ireland, local governing bodies, Catholic and Protestant churches, commercial and educational institutions, chosen by Irishmen, sat for eight months and agreed upon a home rule program. But the Sinn Feiners and O'Brienite extremists would neither take part in it, though invited, nor accept its rulings. And now, it appears, even those moderates who had representatives at the convention are ready to repudiate its work and resort to force.

Force—what for? Not to obtain home rule, which for the time is shelved, but to down England and, in downing England to down America—the best friend that Ireland has ever had!

What do Irish-Americans think of this program? Why do they not speak out?

KINDERGARTENS NOT PRUSSIAN.

The zeal to free the country from everything savoring of Prussianism has inspired a reader to suggest that the name kindergarten be eliminated in the public schools.

Froebel, the creator of the kindergarten system, was a German, but the child of his brain was condemned by the Prussian state, and Froebel himself, having shown sympathy for the revolutionary movement of 1848, came under Government disfavor. In 1851 the Prussian Government declared that "Schools founded on Froebel's principles or principles like them could not be allowed." But the kindergarten idea and the system, under the name of infant schools, flourished in England, received favor in France, Italy and even Austria. The system and the name were adopted in the United States, and this country is the real home of the kindergarten.

We are fighting Prussian autocracy, not the memory and work of kindly hearted, fine-spirited Germans like Froebel, Oberlin and other educators, whose immortal productions belong to the race. Prussia repudiated the kindergarten; let us keep it and the name Froebel gave it.

OUR OLDEST PROPHET.

Chauncey M. Depew, who was just above the draft age for the first Punic war got into print again yesterday. There was a time when he did this frequently, but he has been out of type so long that whenever we hear his name nowadays we have to stop and think whether he is the man who used to be cartooned in Judge and Puck, or the one who used to sing "My Wild Irish Rose."

Chauncey at the age of 84 is still cheerful, though he has lived to see many of his former activities become obsolete. Among other things he was a teller of funny stories—real funny ones. Some of them were so funny that legislators, between guffaws, passed the bill which he wanted passed. Others were so funny that after Chauncey told them at dinner the convulsed waiter passed the bill to someone else at the table.

Though his funny stories haven't been getting into print lately his assurance that he hasn't the slightest doubt of an allied victory shows that his faculties are unimpaired. If Chauncey were a few years younger we could press him into service as a rapid-fire raconteur. Think what a Liberty Bond salesman he would make. He could even tell his old stories over again. They would be new to the youth of today.

A DRIVE WITHOUT A DADDY.

The Picardy drive is in danger of waking up some fine morning and finding itself an orphan. At present it is being tossed from one putative parent to another, with grave prejudice to its pedigree. The trouble is that it is developing symptoms of weakness, and nobody wants to own up to the paternity of a drive that is becoming puny at the age of four weeks.

When the drive was born it was such a lusty youngster and gave so much promise of increasing in strength that it was embarrassed by a multiplicity of papas. It was variously acclaimed as Hindenburg's drive and Ludendorff's drive and the Crown Prince's drive until the Kaiser, proud of the young drive's promise, spurned foster parentage and was not content even with the somewhat remote honor of being its grandfather and came right out and said it was his drive.

But after having a look at it at the age of four weeks, the All Highest begins to fear that it is going to turn out to be a weakling drive after all, and he is reported to have said that it is no longer a drive of his. Naturally, if he is unwilling to be its father any longer he is just as unwilling to be its grandfather and that lets the Crown Prince out. That leaves only Hindenburg and Ludendorf and each is willing to sacrifice himself and give the other all the credit for having brought the disappointing drive into the world. It will take all the strategy of the general staff to keep it from being left on their doorstep.

THE NAVY CALLS.

The young man who is not moved to gallant service in the great war for human liberty now raging towards a climax of victory is lacking in the qualities of virile manhood.

No service is more appealing to adventuresome and courageous souls than that of the navy, which is always the front fighting line of the nation and which is called to do daring and vital work. At any time the navy may record another brilliant page of American akill and valor.

The appeal of the navy, therefore, for 1000 recruits should meet with prompt response. The ships are ready and men are needed to man them. The navy offers extraordinary opportunities for men between 18 and 44. Enlisted men are rated on merit and according to qualifications. The work is congenial, living conditions are excellent and the wages good. The chances for promotions are many. The opportunity for glorious service may come at any moment. Service in the navy, apart from its war opportunities, is a liberal education.

Men in the draft who have not been called are eligible for naval enlistment. Let the St. Louis quota be quickly filled.

It may be true, as that Boston astrologer says, that young Archie Roosevelt Jr. lacks self-esteem and will need a more self-reliant person to push him along, but it doesn't matter. There's grandpa. He has enough self-esteem for himself and little Archie and can be depended upon to get out and push whenever the junior slows down.

TO COMPLAINANT SKINKER, DE.

A late Post-Dispatch editorial dealt with the great loss to St. Louis County in higher interest rates and increased cost of materials resulting from the litigation to prevent the issuance of the $3,000,000 in road bonds voted nearly three years ago. It was suggested that an indemnity bond to cover possible losses of this kind might be required in some cases on the institution of such litigation.

W. T. Rutherford, a lawyer in the Merchants-Laclede Bank Building, writes us that in his judgment the facts would enable St. Louis County to maintain an action for damages against Complainant Skinker, even though no indemnity bond was required.

As the advance in constructive materials and labor, estimated at 20 per cent, causes a loss of $600,000, and as the advance in interest rates may figure almost as much more during the life of the bonds—a 1 per cent advance would mean $30,000 a year—the possibility of recovery is a point of no small interest.

Mr. Rutherford goes exhaustively into the law points of a possible damage suit. The only basis for the obstructive suit now pending was that the proceeds of the bonds, reserved for county roads, could not be used in improving the streets of towns and villages in the county, although property in such towns and villages would be taxed to pay the interest and principal of the bonds. Not only is this a contention without merit, in Mr. Rutherford's professional view of past judicial decisions, but it is one which Complainant Skinker himself waives every time he pays his annual county road tax of 25 cents a $100, the proceeds of which are likewise reserved for country roads and from which town streets are excluded.

From the circumstance that the complainant admits the validity of the principle under which the road tax is collected in accordance with a constitutional amendment adopted in 1908, but resists exactly that same principle in the bond issue lawsuit, and from other circumstances, Mr. Rutherford argues that the lawsuit was not instituted in good faith, but for the purposes of delay alone. The sole objective of delay having been attained and having caused the county lamentable loss, the complainant, it is urged, should be held responsible for what goes along with the objective.

The amount involved seems to make an attempt to collect worth while.

When the roll of Liberty Loan dollars is called the answer from the St. Louis contingent should be: "All present or accounted for."

FRANCE WILL LIVE!

In every war there is always some apt phrase that subsequently is passed from generation to generation, either meant seriously or in such a jesting manner that after it has gone from mouth to mouth becomes part of the nation's family slang. The Englishman in his club when he wanted to express surprise in a facetious way would exclaim: "Bli-me!" It was supposed to be an expression from the mouth of Lord Nelson at the battle of Trafalgar.

And then we have from the late Admiral Dewey his famous order to the captain of the Olympic when the fleet sailed into Manila Bay 20 years ago:

"You may fire when you are ready, Gridley."

There are many more of these terse phrases from the mouths of famous men in the past, and many more, no doubt, will be born from this, the greatest of all wars, but none will ever stand out in history with greater glory, nor none ever invented by the human mind that will express the valor of a nation with such force as that created by Stephane Laubanne of Paris, editor of Le Matin, when he said:

> To fight Germany, France has given already 1,000,000 men. We are ready to give more. When there are no more men, the women will rise up. When there are no more women, the children will rise up. When there are no more children, the dead will rise up. France will live free or die free. And France will live.

That does not mean as Germany says: "Might Makes Right." Instead, it means: "Right Makes Might."

"France will live."

TO THE PATRONS OF THE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE OF HAWK POINT.

(From the Hawk Point (Mo.) Transcript.)

I have taken the switch board and expect to give the best service I can, which you all expect me to do. Now if you expect good service you must do your duty, if your line or your box gets out of order fix them or report to the "trouble man" or Mr. Wuelburn, as I am not the one to look after that part of the business. I will do my duty if you will do yours. I am asking no special favors and don't propose to grant any. Everybody looks alike to me when it comes to answering calls and this office will be strictly for business only. I have already heard it, "Oh, we won't have good service now." Don't criticise until you have good reason to. I don't want to be criticised for the fault of some one else. We all fail short of our duty some times. Thanking you all in advance to your duty and help me do mine. Hoping we all may do better in the future.

Respectfully Yours,
THELMA HOLMES GUNTHER.

If Kansas City really did wire Mary Pickford and say it would not be necessary for her to go there, as the bond drive in that city had ended, then Mary got about as far West as the manners of the country made it advisable for her to go.

Sending home 40 trainloads of wounded soldiers a day ought to assure the German people, as Ludendorff promised, that they are knocking them out.

If the French are really going in for baseball, Alexander the Great ought to make the country tip up when he steps ashore.

"Do you consider the Irish indispensable?"

"No, but I don't believe the Kaiser could very well spare them."

O TEMPORA! O MORES!

We are in receipt of the following:

"We had always hoped to spend some far-off, long-hoped-for time of leisure in New Orleans. Now that lotus land is spoiled and ravaged by the hand of progress. It has become a model of commercial advancement and civic spirit. Where, oh, where, can one find that delicious irresponsibility that once infested dear old New Orleans?"

It exists, we think, in Panama City. At least it was there a few years ago, when I spent a week there. One could feel the absence of all responsibility. There was no city plan commission, or civic league, etc., etc.; and there was a lottery, which must be the case. No one was working for the short ballot. We are not sure, but we believe at that time Panama City had no ten-cent store; but that is almost too much to hope for now.

The Inside History of Germanys Plot's and Intrigues

The Germans did us a great compliment when the submarine base at Zeebrugge was raided by the British yesterday. They could account for the audacity of the attack in only one way, and therefore cried, "It's the Yankees!" So it will be, too, before we get done.

Guatemala declares her attitude toward the European belligerents to be the same as that of the United States. We take this to mean that she declares war upon Germany, but it is much too naive for the Germans to make that out of it.

If, as Gov. Bamberger says, the best blood of Germany fled from that country in the revolution of 1848, it is going back with Pershing after making what is probably the world's record for having gone out after help.

Judging by the way our district had to drag St. Louis over the top, we buy Liberty Bonds here as if they were something good to read.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

Promotion by Senority.

From the New York Times.

THE late Senator Stone of Missouri came to be chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations simply by seniority. It is no injustice to his memory to record the fact that neither his studies, his acquirements, nor the character of his mind made him the most suitable, or even a suitable person for that post. Time was his chief merit. Now death and time are to appoint his successor. The next man on the list happens to be Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska.

Of Mr. Hitchcock's singular zeal to alter international law for the benefit of Germany before the entrance of the United States into the war it would be impolite, it might even be unfair, to speak. Let bygones be bygones. Not against him personally, but against the system of promotion with no thought of special talent or merit, but for mere length of service on the committee must just objection be made. It is true that nothing known, or visible, in his public services in either branch of Congress marks him as fit to be chairman of this committee, whose work must be momentous in the present and in the future, since the old comparative isolation of the United States from the world is ended, since in Europe, in Asia, in Mexico, Central and South America, in the Carribbean as in the Pacific, are vital American connections and interests, the multifarious interrelations and interpenetrations of country with country in a world made small by steam and electricity and the airplane.

How long could a great corporation be run successfully on the promotion-by-seniority plan? The present Senate Committee on Foreign Relations consists, with the Democratic vacancy left by Mr. Stone's death, of nine Democrats and seven Republicans. The nine Democrats are Hitchcock of Nebraska, John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, Swanson of Virginia, Pomerene of Ohio, Marcus Aurelius Smith of Arizona, Saulsbury of Delaware, Pittman of Nevada, Shields of Tennessee, Thomas of Colorado. With the largest allowance for the capabilities, virtues, and golden gifts of these gentlemen, Mr. Williams is probably the only one who is known to the country at large; and even Mr. Williams is occasionally a little ill-advised and sudden, sound as is his patriotism and various as is his talent. The Republican members are Lodge, William Alden Smith of Michigan, McCumber of North Dakota, Borah of Idaho, Brandegee of Connecticut, Fall of New Mexico, Knox of Pennsylvania. Subtracting Mr. Smith of Michigan, subtracting, if you choose to be rigid, Mr. McCumber, you still have five Republican members who outweigh most of the Democratic names. Mr. Knox has been Secretary of State. Mr. Lodge by universal admission, is fit to be, as is Senator Borah. Why should the rule of seniority force the succession of Mr. Hitchcock to a chairmanship for which he has small other recognizable qualifications? The Senate might better choose its committee chairman by shaking dice than by this rule. There would be a better chance, probably, of getting the fittest, men.

Accepting the Facts.

From the Springfield Republican.

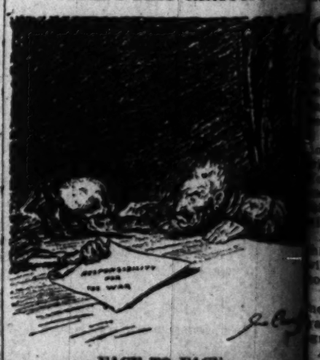

VISCOUNT UCHIDA, just returned by way of Siberia from his post as Ambassador to Russia, disposes rather thoroughly of the myth of the armed German prisoners of war. In his statement his Government in Tokio he reports that he did not find that the prisoners in Siberia had complete liberty and he saw reason to regard them as a menace. Indeed, he seemed to think that the Central Powers would rather not have them come home at present, because of fear that they might bring with them some revolutionary taint. But the most significant and important part of his report was his opinion that it would be unwise for the Japanese to enter Russia at this time because "Bolshevism today represents the thought of a great majority of the Russian people." That is the outstanding fact which one gathers from reports from all quarters; even the enemies of the revolution have reluctantly had to admit that it is gaining ground all over Northern Europe and Northern Asia except where the German and Austrian Emperors are able to suppress it with bayonets. The allies have wasted much time in looking for a promising counter-revolution to back against Lenine and Trotsky; the report of the Japanese Ambassador, it is to be hoped, may induce them to accept the revolution as a fact, give their blessing, and wait as patiently as they can for it to get over its troubles.

Unconstitutional, Un-American.

From the Chicago Herald.

BUT the proposal of Senator Chamberlain to substitute military courts for the regular judicial procedure in the handling of offenders of this class was obviously unwise. Patriots approaching the subject from positions as remote as those occupied by President Wilson and Senator Borah were able to agree that military courts are unnecessary, unconstitutional and un-American. The President, indeed, said that the passage of such a law would put us on a level with the enemy in disrespect.

Are You a Glossy?

How to Ascertain if Your Friends, Wives or Relatives Belong to the Class.

ARE you a Glossy? The time has come to ask yourself that vital question—to search your inmost soul, the way they do in Russian novels, and find out, once for all, the ghastly truth about yourself, writes Dorothy Parker in sprightly fashion in Vanity Fair.

Perhaps you don't know exactly what a Glossy is. Well, in that case A Glossy is any person who is just a little more refined than is really necessary. The Glossies derive their name from the fact that their manners, morals, speech, shoes and finger nails are all a little too polished. They venture just a step farther than anyone else along the narrow path of etiquette; they are just a trifle more punctilious than anyone really has to be. They are full of superfluous little niceties—little elegances of dress and manner and intercourse that separate them from the cruder herd. They are more than refined—oh, much more! They are genteel.

There are innumerable ways of telling a Glossy—each way as infallible as the Bertillon system. The mannerisms of a Glossy—whether male or female—are unmistakable to the trained eye and ear. One of the easiest ways to ascertain the Glossyism of any suspect is by his speech. He is sure to use only his own purist vocabulary; he will never drop into the low patois of more ordinary people. In the language of the Glossies, for instance, there are two sexes—ladies and gentlemen. "Yes, he's the gentleman who cheats at bridge," they say; or "Oh, I remember her—she was the lady that drank so heavily." They speak frequently, too, of "another lady" or "the other gentleman," so that there may be no doubt of their own standing. The coarse words "man" and "woman" never sully a Glossy's lips.

But you really don't have to wait to hear a Glossy speak before you can detect him. You will always know the more virulent type by his clothes. The Glossy is always dressed for an occasion just a degree more formal than that which he is attending.

When common men wear black waistcoats, the Glossy wears one of delicate gray; when ordinary men are content with a mere cutaway, he affects the pomp and ceremony of a frock coat. His evening tie, instead of being the conventional, unimaginative white, has a slender line of black along its edges.

His everyday garments are distinguished by ingenious little variations of cuffs and pockets and buttons. He conscientiously dons a "house coat" of black velvet every time he stays at home, and he doggedly wears knickerbockers even for those sports that are better off without them.

Female Glossies, too, are always just one jump ahead of the formality of the occasion. Their garments are invariably a little lighter in color than is absolutely essential. Their school of dress is that generally designated by the genteel adjective "dressy." They go in for ruffles and ribbons and medallions of lace and blotches of bead work. They don't wear commonplace white gloves; theirs are decoratively stitched in black. They adore pale shoes and vivid hats.

BOTH the male and female of the species are always heavily jeweled, no matter at what hour of the day. A male Glassy would much rather go out without his collar than without his scarfpin. He is constantly producing countless little jeweled cases, for cigarettes and matches and cheques and postage stamps and card and note books, from various pockets about his person. His waistcoat is gracefully garlanded with chains, and he has a large collection of nonwriting gold pencils and fountain pens.

Glossy's letter is always delightfully characteristic. The stationery is refreshingly out of the ordinary—colorful, decorative, almost Urbanesque. Female Glossies are devoted to envelopes of thin paper, lined with tissue paper of a gay plaid and scented copiously with lily-of-the-valley. Pleasant changes are rung in the usual method of address by writing "To" or "For" obliquely across the envelope, just before the name of the fortunate person for whom the letter is intended.

The epistle itself never departs from the most approved form. All Glossies have been brought up on the charmingly quaint theory that no letter should begin with "I." They have the most ingenious methods of avoiding the egotistical word, sometimes, when invention fails, even starting things right off with a terse "am."

They revel in the use of "pray," and "indeed" is one of their standbys. They simply can't stop underlining; female Glossies are particularly addicted to this exercise. They underscore approximately every third word, and, if they are at all afraid that the reader will miss the whole point of the thing, they not only underline the word but put it in quotation marks. In closing the epistle, they have the most reassuring way of writing "Believe me," before they add their "Faithfully," or "As ever," or "With a heart full of love."

Why You Don't Keep Friends

By Sophie Irene Loeb.

A GIRL signing "Perplexed" writes to me as follows:

"I am a young girl and considered pretty. I make friends very easily, but do not keep them, when I do keep a friend I disappoint him or her so that they drop me sooner or later.

"Can you tell me how to change myself in some way that I can keep and hold my friends. It makes me feel so badly at times that I become discouraged with humanity and my own uselessness."

It is not so much to change yourself as to be yourself. In order to have a friend you must be one. I know a young woman who has a true heart. She wanted to do everything she could for her friends. She made promises but rarely fulfilled them. Invariably, at the beginning girl made friends easily because of her affable manner and her seeming anxiety to please.

But the hardship came when she tried to carry out the things she had agreed to do. She "fell down" and her friends lost faith in her. Therefore she never held her friends. In a word, this girl's heart was bigger than her ability. Her vision of her own capabilities was distorted. It is a good thing not to try to overpleas.. when you don't disappoint

I know another young woman who has many friends to her. She talks little and is never over-demonstrative, and yet everybody knows that she is very dependable. She never fails when called upon to prove her friendship. She does not agree to do anything she can't accomplish.

She keeps her promises no matter how slight. Her little acts of kindness, while not much in themselves, accumulate and draw gracious feelings toward her. When speaking of this girl everybody says: "She is so natural. She is always the same. She is so reliable." And everybody wants her for a friend.

ONE of the big elements of friendship is to try to be one's self. People who act a part and try to show a fine friendship to which they cannot live up always fail because sometimes, somehow, they are caught unaware and their real self becomes apparent.

It isn't that you must be pretty to win friends. The old adage was a true one, "Beauty is as beauty does." Beauty may attract for the moment by the physical prettiness, but to retain friendship there must be beauty within, beauty of soul. This is charm. As a wise soul has said: "Something within you, deeper than your will, beyond and under your desire, speaks fast to you all that is yours."

It is a word you call forth in the measure which you give. A few rules by which a friend may be recognized are:

A friend is one who stands up for you in public and sits down on you in private.

He is one who helps you take your bitter pill by sugar-coating it for you.

A friend is one who withholds judgment no matter how long you have his unanswered letter.

He refuses to sign your note because he wants to remain your friend.

A friend is one who gives you the bouquet before you die.

He is your enemy when you need one.

A friend is one who handles you with boxing gloves when you are strong and with silk mittens when you are weak.

He is who waits until the morning after to disagree with you

A friend is one who, when he sees you "in the soup," shows you how to swim out.

And when you are in the down-and-out-club a friend is one who will give you the first aviation push.

Three Senses Combine to Give Us Balance.

OUR sense of balance is due not merely to the semicircular canals of our inner ears, but to three main sensory sources. These are the aforesaid canals, our eyes and the pressure sense which is a combination of impressions received from our vertebrae, the muscles of our backs and necks and the weight of our internal organs.

Dr. Percy Fridenberg, the ophthalmic surgeon of Lebanon Hospital and junior surgeon of the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, points out in the Journal of the American Medical Association that an examination in equilibrium of candidates for aviation that is confined to their reaction to impressions on the nerves of the ears and that neglects the other two just as important factors is not likely to save them from falls.

That dizziness may be produced solely by sight is patent to every one who has experienced it on looking down from a great height. Dr. Fridenberg says: "Irregular illumination and motion of objects alone may cause dizziness and confusions, as seen in the common or field variety of 'movie' headache or dizziness. A swinging mirror may cause a most marked sea-sickness which, itself the classical example of vertigo, is often relieved most effectively by excluding visual impressions merely by closing the eyes."

He quotes remarks of aviators who say that when they get into thick clouds they cannot tell whether they are on a level or not, and urges that in the training of airmen their reactions to unusual visual conditions be observed carefully by their instructors.

When you see a bald-headed man with a heavy beard you can't help wondering how nature so completely reversed herself.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

GARDEN HINTS

Eye-Strain Cause of Many Ills

THAT many persons who suffer from minor ills, such as headaches, fears and panics, dizziness, disturbed sleep, train sickness, depression and fainting fits eow these to a slight but long-continued eyestrain was demonstrated in a study of 100 cases presented by Dr. Harold A. des Voeux of Brussels before the Medical Society of London recently and reported in the Lancet.

Women are more subject to these "attacks" than men, because "man learns early in life more surely to control his nervous system than woman does." The symptoms generally become manifest between the ages of 15 and 25, and the average oculist says the defect in the eyes is too slight to warrant correction by glasses.

But Dr. des Voeux says it is the slight degrees of error of accommodation in the eyes which do the harm, not the extreme degrees. For a person who has the latter soon finds he cannot see well without glasses, while he who has only the former can see perfectly well; he does not feel the strain, but this is producing its results as time goes on.

"The human eye," said Dr. des Voeux, "was made for man in the roving or agricultural life; it is not adapted for the restless, unceasing movement at close quarters in a town. Life on a Transvaal farm, where objects at a distance of 20 miles are easily seen, is the natural life."

The symptoms differ in different persons, but most of them recognize that they "are produced by (or are worse after) railway traveling, sightseeing, theaters, crowds, railway stations, big shops, shopping, race meetings, ordinary meetings indoors, motoring, sometimes games of baseball and also frequently by hard and prolonged reading. They nearly all prefer to walk in side streets to main streets, and, if possible, in the parks instead of the streets. They complain of 'smoky rooms,' 'hot rooms,' 'stuffiness,' and attribute the results to the heat and stuffiness and not to the real cause."

As time goes on the sufferers tend to avoid occasions that cause them trouble, and if they suffer much are likely to drift into the life of a recluse. Two of Dr. des Voeux's patients were only really well when living in the desert of Africa. They are always improved by life in the country. One woman said to him: "I can hunt from 10 to 6, but if I go out to dinner, and especially if I go to a ball at night, I am ill for days after."

And, according to Dr. des Voeux, all this is due to very slight defects in the eyes. In some cases the orbits are not perfectly aligned, in others there is slight myopia (short sight), in more there is hypermetropia (long sight). Any of these defects can be remedied by proper glasses, and in many cases, if treated early enough, can be cured.

First Missionaries to China.

THE first general attempt to introduce Christianity into China dates from April 24, 1845, when the Chinese Government, following the Chinese war with Great Britain, disastrous war with Great Britain, granted permission to foreigners to teach the Christian religion. Missionaries from many countries began immediately to flock to China, but in most places the "white devils" were received with hostility. The Emperor Taou-Kwang, who in the latter part of his reign favored the introduction of European arts and religion, died in 1850, and his son, Hieng-Fung, adopted a reactionary policy.

One of the odd results of the introduction of Christianity in China was the appearance in 1851 of a rebel leader who called himself Tien-teh, and who announced himself as the restorer of the worship of the true god, Shang-ti, and derived many of his dogmas from the Bible. He called himself the brother of Jesus, the second son of God and the monarch of all beneath the skies, and demanded universal submission. His insurgent followers called themselves Taepings, or "Princes of Peace," but the title was utterly belied by their atrocious deeds.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS:

Man's Biggest Mistake Is Choosing a Woman for Her Beauty Instead of Her Brains.

A WORLDLY wise woman was speaking of her young daughter the other day.

"Oh yes," she said confidently, "Mable will be sure to be a great belle and will probably make a fine marriage. She's just the type that men admire most—very pretty and not very clever, brains mostly in her heels and hands, you know, so that she can dance and play tennis, and golf with them, and do things to make them comfortable, and make them feel like Solomons because they know so much more than she does."

"Lucky girl," exclaimed a pretty young woman who was listening to this description of the masculine ideal. "There's nothing that the average man has such a horror of as intelligence in a woman. He's as frightened of it as children are of a Lugaboo. Now, I'm still in my sweet-and-twenties. I'm not bad-looking. When it comes to dancing, athletics and even to flirting, I can tread a measure with even the silliest debutante.

"Consequently, when I meet a young man we get along famously together until by some chance he discovers that I am a college professor, whereupon he withdraws himself from my presence as expeditiously as decency permits, and I see him no more. The knowledge that I was a leper would no more quarantine me from the society of the majority of men than does the knowledge that I have several college degrees and teach higher mathematics for a living.

"I wonder why? It isn't because I'm a pedantic bore who backs a man up against the wall and asks him what he thinks Browning thought he thought, or who insists on confining her conversation to high-browed subjects. Far from it. I'm willing to chime in on any talky-talk key a man wants to strike, if he will only permit me. But he won't. He flees from me in a panic because he suspects me of being clever, and that's woman's capital sin in his eyes."

Of course, there are exceptions to this rule. There are some bold and adventurous men who have the hardihood to go over the top and marry college-bred women, and even school ma'ams, but they are the iron cross heroes of their sex. The average man still takes to his heels in fright when he sees a woman who has the reputation of being a blue stocking approaching.

THIS is true, and it is one of the mysteries of masculine psychology at which women perpetually marvel, and which they can never explain. Why are men so afraid of cleverness in women? Why has it always been a reproach to say of a woman that she is "strong-minded," thereby inferring that feeble-mindedness is a feminine virtue? Why do men prefer feminine brains in half portions, and scrambled at that?

There is no use in saying that they don't, because all common observations proves the contrary. It is the baby doll girls who have the most attention from men, and who never lack for dancing partners, or automobile rides, or hunger for chocolate creams, not the intelligent, cultivated college graduate. Any little puny fool of a baby-talk lady can marry all around a sensible woman. The first question a man ever asks about a woman is whether she is good looking or not. It apparently never interests him to know whether or not she has any intelligence. He is concerned solely with the outside of her head, not what is within it.

If men themselves were idiots and uneducated one could understand how they would prefer female idiots as companions and wives, but men are not idiots, and so the wonder grows when we see them preferring dull women to bright ones.

Of course one reason that may be assigned for men liking silly women better than they do clever ones is masculine vanity. Men have had the whole display privilege for brains so long that they dislike to share it with women. A man is afraid if he marries a brilliant woman that she may occupy the spotlight in their home instead of his monopolizing its beneficent rays. Also a man is well aware that if he marries a woman who is intelligent, as well educated, and as well informed as he is that he cannot pose as an oracle to her, or expect her to accept all of her opinions ready-made from him.

UNDOUBTEDLY these considerations cause many a man to pass over the clever woman for her stupid sister, but when he does so he pays a terrific price for the gratification of his egotism. For in its last analysis the one absolutely essential ingredient to a happy marriage is for the wife to drop into it a full-weight brain, and no woman without intelligence can be a satisfactory life partner.

A woman's beauty is a matter of a very few years at the longest. When it is gone what charm has she to conjure with if she has not intelligence, reading, wit? If she cannot entertain and amuse a man she has no longer the good looks to charm his eyes.

Living pictures deteriorate year by year, but brains are like wine, they grow in flavor and richness with age. And this, also, is to be said, that no woman in the world grew so homely with age as stupid women, who have no intelligence to light their faces when the glamour of youth is dead. When you travel in the Orient, and observe the hideous, dull blankness of the old women's faces you realize that it's worth while to educate women just for the sake of their looks.

Matrimony is the long, long trail. It's queer that men who are intelligent themselves deliberately pick out as fellow travelers on this journey that is going to last perhaps for 40 or 50 years companions who will bore them stiff after the first brief lap of the honeymoon.

YOU would think that a man who is clever himself would hunt up the cleverest woman he could find for a fellow voyager, that he would get one who could discuss the books he liked with him, who would understand his little half word references to this and that in literature and history, and who could catch the subtlest flavor of all his wit and humor. But he seldom does. He's afraid of that sort of woman. God only knows why. No woman ever does, especially the clever woman doesn't who sees her pin-headed sister gathering in for a husband the man she does not understand, and never can understand, while the woman who could understand him breaks her heart with longing for him.

Men are afraid of the clever woman, and yet it takes brains to run a home thriftily, to raise children properly, and to meet with philosophy trials and tribulations of everyday life. If a woman has intelligence she can, and will, adapt herself cheerfully to any emergency that may arise. It is only the fool woman who is hopeless, who can never rise to the situation, or see anything bigger and finer than her own little miserable selfish prejudices and desires.

The only woman fit to marry is the clever woman, yet men are so afraid of her they fight shy of her. That is why divorce is so common.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

BY MRS. F. A. WALKER.

Paper Doll's Protector—Part II.

IN a minute Paper Doll had the policeman on the wire and told him of her terrible plight, and the next minute across the playroom came the little wooden policeman on the run, everybody jumping out of his way or following him to find out what had happened.

"Oh, save me save me!" cried Paper Doll, when little Wooden Policeman stood at her door; "a terrible spider has barred my door and windows and I am a prisoner."

"Have no fear. I will rescue you, fair lady," said the little Wooden Policeman, for he could see through the spider's web that Paper Doll was very pretty. It did not take little Wooden Policeman long to break away the bars from the windows and door of Paper Doll's house and help her to get outside, for Paper Doll was quite overcome by fright and the strain of being a prisoner so long.

Little Wooden Policeman led Paper Doll to a little wooden chair under the table, and when she was seated, Teddy Bear and all the other toys who had followed the policeman asked what had happened.

Paper Doll told them all how first the mouse had scared her and the moth miller had come in her house and stayed for a long time, and last of all the terrible spider, who had made her a prisoner in her own house.

"I just cannot live there alone any longer," said Paper Doll, beginning to cry. "I must have a protector."

"I AM sure you are right," said little Wooden Policeman. "And if you will accept my protection I shall be glad to offer my services."

Teddy Bear said he thought that was just the thing to do, and advised Paper Doll to have little Wooden Policeman Doll guard her house.

Not long after that one night Freda Doll said: "I should think Paper Doll would have better sense than to be talking with the policeman all the time. Whenever you look that way you see her sitting on the steps talking with him, or he is sitting on the steps and she is looking out of the window. For my part, I think it is quite a scandal."

"Well, she needed a protector," said Teddy Bear, "and I advised her to take little Wooden Policeman for one. He offered his services."

"Well, Teddy Bear, all I can say," said Freda Doll, "is that if she marries him you will be to blame for encouraging the match, and it will be the first scandal that has come into the playroom."

"I don't see any harm if she does marry him," said Teddy Bear. "If they love each other where is the scandal, I should like to know?"

"Can't you see, silly?" said Freda Doll. "She would be marrying beneath her."

"Love is never beneath anyone, to my way of thinking," said Teddy Bear.

Mitout!

THE pretty young German girl who presided over the soda fountain in the drug store was accustomed to serving patrons who did not know their own minds, and her habit of thought was hard to change.

"Plain soda," said a man of generous proportions, as he entered hastily.

"You have vanilla or you have chocolate, or"——

"I want plain soda without syrup," interrupted the customer testily.

"Yes," tranquilly replied the young woman, "but w'at kind syrup you want him mitout—mitout vanilla or mitout chocolate?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

What Every Bride Wishes

If You Are Going to Be Married Cut This Out and Send a Copy to Each of Your Female Relatives.

By Helen Rowland.

IF you are going to be married in June——
Or EVER——
And you really want time to go on loving you,
And worshipping that graven image of all the Charms and Perfections
Which he has made in YOUR likeness,
And placed on a pedestal, or an altar, or a niche in the wall,
CUT THIS OUT,
And send a copy of it to each of your dear female relatives,
And to each and every one of your best beloved chums!
On your wedding day!
Dear girl.
When you come to see us,
Please don't tell my husband what a "flighty, fickle little FLIRT I used to be!"
Nor how everybody "spoiled" me,
And nobody ever taught me anything about housekeeping,
And that I am inclined to be improvident and extravagant,
If I'm not WATCHED!
And that I pay my maid "entirely too much!"
And that I ought to use a different kind of floor polish.
And that you know of a much better and cheaper laundry than mine,
And that I should have put the cauliflower to soak before cooking it,
And that you can show me how to make a really GOOD dressing for it,
And that it's a shame the way my cook wastes eggs and butter and imposes on me!
And that YOU always wash your best china and do up your husband's soft collars yourself,
And that you make your OWN hats.
And always buy your furs at the August sales and your summer lingerie at the January sales,
And that you know of a much nicer way to cook potatoes au gratin,
And that I am perfectly foolish to buy my kitchen stuff at the department stores, when I can get perfectly good things at the 10-cent stores,

AND that as long as I telephone my orders to the butcher he will STING me,
And that I'm "awfully sweet now," but that I had a terrible temper when I was a child and needed lots of "control,"
And that I should have married a "cave-man,"
Instead of a nice, mild, patient man like HIM!
And that he'll have to watch me and see that I don't eat too much candy and things like that.
And that if YOU put a steak as rare as that before your husband he wouldn't eat it.
And that it's just wonderful that I can keep house at all,
Considering that I have no SYSTEM and no training,
And never had any domestic tastes—
And all that!
Because
My husband is a poor, blind, innocent, simple-minded thing,
Who hasn't the slightest suspicion that I am a "beautiful bluff,"
Or a "spoiled, silly little ninny."
And who still thinks that I am the one Pluperfect Being,
The one complete combination of saint-siren-solon-and-servitor!
And if it weren't for the bitter fact that "blood will TELL"——
Especially your blood relations,
He would go on thinking so forever!
And would never discover a single thing to hold against me
Except the fact that I MARRIED him!

How can you tell if your baby is well?

HAS he a good appetite—a clear pink skin—bright, wideopen eyes—alert, springy muscles—a contented little face? Does he gain each week in weight—does he sleep quietly with eyes and mouth tightly closed?

If he hasn't all these things, something evidently is wrong with him and nine times in ten that something is his food. Your baby can't grow rosy and strong if he doesn't have the right food. Nurse your baby if you can. If you can't, give him Nestlé's Food.

Don't give him raw cows' milk. Cows' milk needs a calf's four stomachs to digest it. "Cows' milk, as ordinarily marketed is unfit for human consumption," says the U. S. Government.

BUT there is something in cows' milk that is good for your baby, if that something is changed and purified so that it is as light, as satisfying and as pure as mother's milk itself. That is what is done for your baby in Nestlé's Food—made out of pure milk with just the right amounts of cereal and sugar added.

It comes to you reduced to a powder—in an air-tight can. You add only water—boil one minute—and it is ready with just the right amount of fats, proteids, and carbohydrates to make your baby healthy.

NEXT PAYMENT ON CARDINALS TO BE READY WHEN DUE

—PRESIDENT RICKEY.

If Stockholders Do Not Increase Their Holdings $50,000, Cash "Will Be Found."

KNOT HOLERS MUST PAY

Government Official Rules Club Must Not Assume 5-Cents Tax Against Boys.

The $50,000 payment due early next month on the balance of the purchase price of the St. Louis Cardinals, will be met promptly, according to a statement yesterday from President Branch Rickey, although he admitted he did not know at present just where the money would come from. Rickey stated he was not acquainted with the progress of the stock selling campaign now being waged among the present stockholders of the club.

In fact, the Cardinal exequtive was inclined to deny that Cardinal stockholders were being urged to increase their holdings to the extent of $50,000. It is through this channel that the present controlling faction hope to raise money to meet the installment due around May 15.

"We are not conducting any stock selling campaign that I know of," said Rickey, "although we did issue circular letters to be mailed to every stockholder on the club. In this letter we gave them the privilege of increasing their holdings, stating our reasons for the request.

Contingencies Provided For.

"The $50,000 payment due next month will be met and met promptly. I make that statement without reservation and will prove I mean it when the time comes. I have had no report on whether we will get enough subscriptions from stockholders to meet it."

"Is this the only source of revenue available from which the money can be obtained?" Rickey was asked.

"No," Branch replied. "If we can't raise the money through this channel, then we'll have to find somebody to put it up."

"Is there anything significant in that remark?" queried the interviewer.

"Take it just the way I said it," Branch responded. "The payment is due and will be met. If our stockholders do not respond to the letters we sent them, somebody else will."

Knot-Holers to Be Taxed.

Rickey also stated yesterday that he had received a ruling on the Knot-Hole Gang from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in Washington, relating to the war tax. Rickey stated the revenue officials had ruled that these boys could be admitted to the 50-cent sections of Cardinal Field on passes, provided they paid their 5 cents' war tax.

Branch claimed, so far as he could ascertain, all the members of the organized rooting clan were willing to pay their nickels. He said the club would willingly pay it for them, but the law providing tax on admissions specifically states that the club cannot do this.

Last season, 35,061 boys were admitted to Cardinal Field on passes and Branch says he expects fully this number and perhaps more this season. If the same number comes through the gates this season as last year, the Government will collect $1753.05 in war taxes from the Knot-Holers.

New Field "After the War."

Rickey was asked whether the Cardinals contemplated moving over to the old Federal League Park at Grand and Laclede, as it was rumored here yesterday they would. He denied such a move was contemplated and stated that with repairs made on the grands at Cardinal Field this season the present site would serve its purpose.

"I spent $4800 for improvements here, last season, and almost the same amount this season," said Branch. "I am willing to spend just as much more as we need. After the war, the Cardinals will have a field which will be the equal of any in the country. We do not feel justified, however, in expending such an enormous sum of money right now as it would cost to carry out our plans." Rickey went to Chicago last night with the Cardinals, the club opening against the Cubs there today.

Browns' Local Inaugural Postponed Until Tomorrow

Rain and Cold Weather Forces Abandonment of Game With White Sox Scheduled at Sportsman's Park This Afternoon — Opening Day Ceremonies to Be Featured Tomorrow.

RAIN and cold weather caused the postponement of the first game of the season for the Browns on their home grounds scheduled at Sportsman's Park this afternoon. The White Sox, world's champions, were to have been the attraction this afternoon, but business manager Quinn announced shortly before noon, that the game and opening day ceremonies would be postponed until tomorrow.

The White Sox arrived here this morning with one of the smallest squads Charles A. Comiskey has ever sent to this city. There were just 13 players in charge of Manager Rowland when they detrained at Union Station.

Eddie Cicotte, ace pitcher for the White Sox, will not face the Browns in the four-game series which opens at Sportsman's Park tomorrow. When the world's champions detrained at Union Station this morning the "shine ball" expert was not among those present.

Later, manager Rowland of the Sox, explained that Cicotte had been left behind in Chicago. He claims the pitcher is suffering from a slight attack of grip and therefore, decided to give him a rest. Rowland seems in no manner disheartened over the fact that Cicotte has been beaten in both games he started this season.

As Good as Last Year.

"Eddie had a lot of tough breaks in both games," said the genial Clarence this morning, "although it's true he was hit hard in both games. I believe he will round to and I have no hesitancy in saying he's as good as he was last season. That means a lot."

Rowland carried a very small squad of athlets into town this morning. Four of his hopefuls, in addition to Cicotte, did not accompany the team. They are Frank Shellenback, recruit pitcher, Less Jordan and Hargrove, infielders. Joe O'Neill, traveling secretary of the club, also is on the ailing list and "Tip" O'Neill, former president of the eWstern League, is pinch hitting for his namesake.

It is Rowland's belief that Urban Faber, who is in Class 1-A in the draft will not be called until September, at the earliest.

The lineup, however, as it will take the field tomorrow, presents a new aspect on the infield. Charlie Risberg, who broke into the majors as a shortstop, has been shunted over to third and Buck Weaver is playing short, the job he held through the world's series. Fred McMullen, whose work at third was a feature of the White Sox play during the waning weeks of 1917, is on the bench in the role of utility player.

Browns Also Here.

The Browns also arrived home early this morning, packing about a good-sized hospital list. Johns, Hale, Houck, Shocker, Hendryx, Rogers and Lowdermilk are the athletes suffering from injuries, although Lowdermilk may be in shape to hurl tomorrow.

Pete Johns did not accompany the Browns home. He was forced to remain in Cleveland, because of a broken nose, which prevented him from undergoing the hardships of riding of trains. Fritz Maisel, who was called to his home in Baltimore owing to the death of his brother, rejoined the club yesterday.

Claude Williams, southpaw, who blanked the Browns, 5 to 0, during their recent stay in Chicago, is the pitching nominee to pry open the series tomorrow for the White Sox. Either Al Sothoron or Grover Lowdermilk will work for the Browns. The lineups as the teams will take the field tomorrow, follow:

Smith Wins Praise From Manager Jones; Mel Gallia Pitches Welt for Six Innings

CLEVELAND, O., April 24.—Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis Browns, paid Earl Smith, the Brownies' youthful left fielder, a tribute after Monday's game between the Indians and St. Louis. Yesterday, just to prove that his boss wasn't talking through his hat, Smith came through and made good the nice things Jones said about him.

"I have been in baseball a good many years," said the Browns' leader, "and when a player, I cavorted around in the outfield, but I can truthfully say that I can't recall ever seeing an outfielder who got the ball away from him any faster than this lad Smith. He's the marvel of them all when it comes to fielding a ball and sending it on its way with almost the same motion.

"In the sixth inning, with the Indians and Browns on even terms, with two runs all, Turner tripled to left with one gone. Getz followed with a fly to left. It wasn't either a long drive or a short one, but one of those midway affairs, so to speak. Smith circled around under the ball and got in position to make the throw home before he had pocketed the sphere. And when he did finally catch it, it was a treat for sore eyes to see him cut loose with the ball for the plate.

Using His Gray Matter.

"Smith had in mind that if he got that ball in time there was a chance of cutting Turner down and keeping his buddies in the fight. The catch and throw reminded one of a boomerang, for the ball had scarcely struck Earl's glove when it was on its way towards the infield. George Sisler figured that the throw might be wide of its mark and came dashing in. He had gauged the thing exactly right, and grabbed Smith's throw 20 feet from the plate towards first base and then whizzed it to Catcher Nunamaker, who blocked Turner off as he came plunging in headforemost and touched him out. Now, this fellow Turner isn't a slouch at running, and as he left third as soon as the ball touched Smith's glove, one can get a general idea of the rapidity with which Earl got the ball away from him when you stop to consider that Sisler relayed it in time to squeeze Terry."

Gallia Weakens in Seventh.

Yep, it looks as if Fielder has the right dope on Smitty. But the Indians were not to be denied and they broke the tie in the seventh when they went on a rampage, scoring four runs on O'Neill's triple, Graney's double, a gift to Speaker; Roth's single and Kavanagh's double.

They added two more in the eighth on a gift to O'Neill, Graney's single, Chapman's frank to first and Speaker's single. The final score was 8 to 2.

The Browns scored their only runs off Fred Coumbe, the Indians' southpaw, in the fourth, on a gift to Sisler. Smith's sacrifice and Gedeon's home run, which in reality was a legitimate two-base hit, but Graney thought had hit foul and did not give chase after it until Gedeon was well on his way to third. That was the only chapter in which Coumbe was in danger. The Indians tied the count in the fifth on singles by O'Neill and Coumbe and Speaker's long fly to left for a triple after Graney and Chapman had fanned.

Thanks to indifferent pitching, the Browns lost three games and captured one at Cleveland. The club looked good aside from its pitching at all times, the chief drawback having been the failure of Sisler to hit.

On the other hand, the great and unexpected batting by Gedeon and others has gratified Manager Jones immensely. The weather was bad at all times, explaining the failure of the Browns' pitchers somewhat. Gallie was good for seven innings yesterday, when he weakened.

TY COBB AND HEILMAN NOT IN OPENING GAME

DETROIT, Mich., April 24.—Patriotic exercises will mark the opening of the local American season here this afternoon in the meeting of the Detroit and Cleveland clubs. One of the features will be the raising of the flags of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and the United States on the Navin Field flagpole.

With ideal weather conditions indicated a record breaking attendance was expected. Neither Ty Cobb nor Harry Heilmann will be in today's game. Erickson and Stanley Coveleskie will probably be the opposing pitchers.

MAPLEWOOD HIGH WINS.

The Maplewood High team yesterday, afternoon gained an easy victory over Clayton, 10—3. Berger, pitching for the winners, allowed only five hits, while his mates bumped Kneele for 12 safeties. Ballard of the winners was the batting star.

Fred Luderus, the Phillies' first sacker, hit his second home run of the season against Rube Marquard.

Cards Broke Even in Home Games; Jake May Tames Bezdek's Pirates

The Cardinals left here last night for Chicago, where today they begin their first invasion of foreign fields in the 1918 pennant campaign. By grace of yesterday's victory over the Pirates, Hendricks' crew closed their home stand with an even break, winning and losing to the Cubs, and repeat-

While eight games had been scheduled, inclement weather forced the postponement of half this number and will cause a bulge of twin bills later in the season. Hendricks stated last night that Lee Meadows would work in Chicago today. He probably will draw Jim Vaughn as an opponent, as Alexander is being saved for Friday when he will pitch his last game for the Cubs before joining the army.

After spotting the Pirates five runs in the first two innings yesterday, the Cardinals came back and eventually won, 6 to 5. Bob Steel and Roy Sanders performed for the visitors while Bill Doak and Jake May hurled for the locals.

Umpires Goaded Again.

Once more there was a wild session of umpire baiting. The Pirates "got on" Hank O'Day early and the ump threatened to send the entire bench unit to the club house. He finally did bench Jimmy Archer. Then, not to be outdone, Lord Byron came through with a benching act in the seventh, when he told Jake Pitler to get off the field.

Hamilton Gets $100.

Earl Hamilton's victory over the Cardinals Monday enriched the little southpaw by $100. His father, disliking some of the newspaper comment anent the Pirates, offered Earl a century note if he would beat the Cardinals. Both made good.

May Finished Strong.

Jake May twirled a mighty pert game from the third frame to the last. Fred Mollwitz got the only two hits made off the little southpaw and only one of them was clean.

Douglas Baird looks better every day. Yesterday he won the game with a ringing triple to right center. He scored while McKechnie was throwing out Paulette.

Big League Stuff.

Max Carey and Casey Stengel pulled the double steal to perfection in the first inning. Stengel beat the throw to catch him purloining second, while Carey did likewise on Niehoff's return to the plate.

"No Wives Allowed."

Manager Hendricks of the Cardinals, issued a new order just previous to yesterday's game. It was "No wives allowed on this trip." It was a cruel blow to several of the players' helpmeets who had their trunks packed.

Smith May Leave May 9.

Manager Hendricks of the Cardinals, has received unconfirmed information that Jack Smith will have to report for army service around May 9. Smith was registered in Chicago.

Howard Takes Army Exam.

Earl Howard, recruit right-hander, did not depart with the club last night, having remained here to take his physical examination for the army. He expects his draft summons any day now.

ST. PAUL TO HOLD TITLE CONTEST IF PUBLIC WANTS IT

Announcement to This Effect Is Made by Member of State Safety Commission.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 24.—Col. J. C. Miller, promotor of the Willard-Fulton fight, proposed for St. Paul on July 4 today decided to tentatively arrange for the bout, pending final decision by State authorities as to whether the contest would be allowed.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 24.—From a statement made last night by a member of the State Safety Commission yesterday the heaviweight championship match between Jess Willard, the title holder, and Fred Fulton on July 4 will be permitted if the public desires the bout. However, no license will be granted until a full public hearing has been held.

"We have been assured by a member of the State Boxing Commission that no license to stage the contest will be granted until a full public hearing has been held and the matter thoroughly discussed," stated one of the State Safety Commissioners last night.

When asked when a decision would be made he answered: "We won't cross any bridges until we come to them."

Organizations Oppose Bout.

Active opposition on the part of several organizations in the Twin Cities and the announced determination of the leaders of these forces to enlist State-wide support brought about a feeling in boxing circles here yesterday that the battle would nto be staged in this city. There also was an intimation from the capitol that the fight would not be allowed while the United States was involved in war.

Much of the opposition comes from the clergy and women. Yesterday, just after the Safety Commission had voted to take the question under advisement, 100 ministers and women marched to the Governor's office and formally protested against the proposed title battle.

Miller Attends Meeting.

Col. J. C. Miller, who is promoting the match, was present at yesterday's meeting. He declared that the bout would not be a brutal affair and presented figures to show the large amounts of money that would go to the State, Government and war funds. However, the anti-fight delegation took an opposite view and held that prize fight money was not wanted by the State and that it would reflect discredit on St. Paul and Minnesota.

Several interesting, but conflicting statements were given out by officials yesterday. Robert Sieberlich of Minnesota, a member of the Safety Commission, said the fight would be held July 4, while Ambrose Tighe, special attorney for the commission, stated he did not know how a State license could be granted in order to stage the contest. An outsider is not permitted to hold fights in the Twin Cities.

HANLON WINNER OVER CONLEY IN 3 ROUNDS

Jimmy Hanlon, the Denver lightweight, was returned the winner over Joe Conley, the local boxer, in the third of the scheduled eight-round feature contest at the Stag A. C. last night. During the third session, Conley's seconds asked Referee Randall to stop the one-sided affair. Hanlon's right punches to the kidneys were too much for Conley.

In the semi-final, Pete Macklin outboxed Lou Nauman in eight rounds. Macklin had all the better of the first six rounds, but Nauman came strong in the final two. Randall stopped the opening bout between Sammy Sheiman and Willie Burns in the first round to save the latter.

Fries Allows Two Safeties, Winning From Soldan, 5-2

Great Pitching Enables McKinley to Take First Game in Interscholastic League.

With Bill Fries, one of the best pitchers in the local high school circles, hurling a two-hit game, McKinley yesterday was returned the victor over Soldan, 5—2, in its opening game in the Interscholastic League. Fries fanned 12 of his opponents, in addition to yielding only two safeties. Sylvester, who opposed the South Siders, was found for six bingles.

The South Siders were first to score, putting over four runs in the fourth. G. Thompson singled and was sacrificed to second. Finn singled and Zoeller walked, filling the bases. Conley's hit tallied Thompson and Finn. Zoeller counted on T. Thompson's out, while Conley scored on Burton's error.

In the eighth for Soldan, with one out, Fitzgerald was safe on an error and A. Gazzolo was hit. Lehmann's double counted the pair. Two errors and a sacrifice fly gave McKinley its final run in the last half of the inning. Andy Gazollo, outfielder for Soldan, set a league record by being hit by pitched ball four times.

Yeatman and Cleveland are scheduled to meet this afternoon in the playoff of the postponed game from last Saturday.

Coates field at Pawtucket, R. I., on Saturday, May 4.

"Duke" Sheahan, St. Louis' famous goal keeper, in his new uniform of a Second Lieutenant in the 140th Infantry, called on Secretary Cahill yesterday to say hello. He is stationed at Camp Mills. His regiment is hoping for early orders to sail for France.

TRACK MEET CALLED OFF

The track meet between Webster and Cleveland High Schools, scheduled to be held yesterday afternoon at Francis Field, was postponed because of a misunderstanding between the coaches. The county champions are trying to arrange a meet with Soldan for Saturday and also may ask Yeatman to compete.

LEO KELLEY GAINS DECISION IN BOUT WITH NAVY ROSTAN

St. Louis Welterweight Proves Too Tough for Army Champion in Short Battle.

FORT RILEY, Kan., April 24.—Leo Kelley, the St. Louis welterweight, who has been absent from the ring for some time, came back here last night and gained the referee's decision over "Navy" Rostan, the welterweight champion of the army, after seven rounds of the most spectacular boxing ever witnessed here. Capt. Leninger of the local camp was the referee, and his verdict was popular with the crowd of 1500 that attended. The bout was cut from ten to seven rounds at Rostan's request.

While Kelley was the aggressor in every round, he was held even by Rostan until the final round. However, in this session, Kelley came strong, showing all his old time form. He forced Rostan all around the ring and landed numerous telling blows. Both boys appeared strong at the finish.

Rostan, usually an aggressive and hard-hitting boxer, seemed to fear the St. Louisan and never got set for a good punch, although he landed several hard right crosses and upper cuts. Kelley's best punches were rights and lefts to head, which kept his opponent's nose bleeding throughout. Kelley also used a left to the body with good results. Kelley's left eye was nearly closed at the finish of the bout, but he bore no other marks.

Of the seven rounds, Kelley was the victor in two, the second and the final one, while the other five were even. During an exchange of punches in the third round, Kelley slipped to the floor, but was up before the referee started counting. This round was Rostan's best, he trying hard for a knockout, but the St. Louisan proved too tough for him.

"IT'S "HENDRICKS' DAY" AT CHICAGO CUBS' OPENING

CHICAGO, April 24.—Inauguration of the National League season here today by a game between the local club and St. Louis was designated "Hendricks day" in honor of Jack Hendricks, manager of St. Louis team, who made his first appearance in his home city as a major league manager.

Hendricks began his baseball career on public school nines in this city more than 20 years ago.

Gov. Frank O. Lowden was expected to toss out the first ball and 500 soldiers from Fort Sheridan and as many jarkies from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station were here to attend the game in a body.

A corps of salesmen were assigned to the ball park to solicit subscriptions for the third Liberty Loan.

ST. PAUL SIGNS BYRNE.

Bobby Byrne, the local player, who during his major league career, played with the Cardinals, Pirates, Phillies, and was a member of the White Sox for a short time last season, has signed to play with St. Paul of the American Asociation during the coming campaign.

ELABORATE CEREMONIES TO FEATURE OPENING OF YANKEES' HOME SEASON

NEW YORK, April 24.—The opening of the American League season here today with the Washington club opposing the local club was to be attended with elaborate ceremonies. Soldiers from Governors Island and sailors from the Pelham Bay station were to furnish the setting for a patriotic demonstration which Liberty Loan workers, including many prominent stage stars, expected would result in a sizeable boost to the day's bond sales. Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York club, opened the drive at the Polo Grounds with a subscription of $50,000.

Over in Brooklyn where the Dodgers open their home season with the New York Giants, 1000 sailors from the Brooklyn Navy Yard and 600 soldiers from Fort Hamilton, were to parade before the game. Seventy-five women were assigned to sell Liberty Bonds.

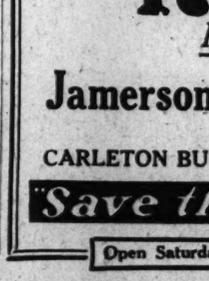

FARRAR HAS 6-POINT LEAD IN ANGLE MATCH

Toni Sperry, present city three-cushion champion, must score 56 points in the final block of his 150-point match with Elmer Farrar, the challenger, tonight before the latter gets 50, in order to retain his championship. While Sperry gained a lead of 18 points in the first block, Farrar came with a rush last night and won the second, 68 to 44, making the total score 100 to 94 in favor of Farrar.

Last night's block lasted 104 innings, which gave Farrar an average of .75. He had a big run of six in the first inning. Sperry's best was a five.

AMES WINS FROM KANSAS.

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 24.—Six errors by Kansas players and opportune hits by Iowa sluggers were the deciding factors in the baseball game between Kansas University and Ames Agricultural College, which the visiting team won, 8 to 2.

YOUNG LOCHINVAR galloped in from the West,
He wiped off his chin and he pulled down his vest;
Said he: "I rode in on my flea-bitten roan
To put in a boost for the Liberty Loan."

Young Lochinvar had a pretty good eye,
When Liberty Bonds he decided to buy;
He knew that the money so cheerfully lent
Would net him his four-and-a-quarter per cent.

So Young Lochinvar purchased bonds by the score,
And when he had bought them he hollered for more.
He tucked them all safely inside of his vest
Then mounted his steed and went back to the West.

So, everyone pattern by Young Lochinvar
And Liberty Bonds will soon be above par.

You'll make them the finest investment what am.

Wall Street Market Shows Rather Uncertain Tone After Early Gains in Prices—Bonds Are Quiet and Fairly Steady.

NEW YORK, April 24.

Only a fair degree of activity prevailed at the opening of the stock market today and prices were irregular, following the decline in the late dealings yesterday. Studebaker and some of the specialties were pressed for sale at rather sharp losses. U. S. Steel opened fractionally higher.

Public utility stocks have not stood up as well as other industrials since the beginning of the year. There appears to be a constant selling pressure in this part of the list. The reasons are obvious and no general governmental aid has appeared yet to help the utilities in their fight for higher rates.

The total capital of public utilities in the United States exceeds $10,000,000,000 and the annual operating revenue exceed $1,500,000,000. Thomas N. McCarter, president of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, in a timely speech, pointed out that if widespread disaster was to be averted the Public Service Commissions of the country must render aid. The rising costs of materials and labor cannot be combatted as long as rates for service are not raised. "The public must realize," said Mr. McCarter, "that in the public utility business, as in every other business, two and two make four, and it must be willing to pay a fair price for a thousand cubic feet of gas, a kilowatt hour of electricity or a ride upon an electric car."

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 24.—Gains extending from 1 to 2 points in Reading, Anaconda and Inspiration Coppers, Sumatra Tobacco and Loose-Wiles Biscuit were the distinguishing features at the opening of today's stock market. Otherwise changes were limited to fractions mainly upward. The motor group was irregular, and specialties manifested variable tendencies. Dealings were light, interest again centering in the war situation. Liberty Bonds yielded slightly.

Petroleum and minor war issues were included among the stronger stocks of the early period, but an abrupt reversal set in on announcement of Germany's fresh offensive in France. Motors were most vulnerable, breaking 1½ to 5 points, accompanied by adverse dividend rumors.

Shippings also reacted 1 to 2 points, and by noon little remained of the initial rise. The only striking exceptions were fertilizers and Sumatra Tobacco at overnight gains of 1½ to 3 points.

Liberty 3½s sold at 98.96 to 99.04, first 4s at 96.62 to 96.68 and second 4s at 96.64 to 96.70.

Specialties continued to feature the trading of the midsession, Sumatra Tobacco, fertilizers and papers adding 1 to 2 points to their gains of the morning. Standard stocks also rallied to levels where they exceeded opening advances.

Horses and Mules.

MULES—A small run, not in excess of 50 head, which was small enough to find outlet mainly without any price reduction. Some mules have been sold from first hands the current week as high as $30, which goes to show that prices, despite sharp declines several weeks ago, are still abnormally high.

COTTON OPENS LOWER, THEN SCORES A RALLY

Market Is Influenced by Weakness in Liverpool and Talk of Cheaper Insurance.

NEW YORK, April 24.—An opening decline of 6 to 20 points in the cotton market here was only a partial response to lower Liverpool cables, and prices steadied up after the call on covering on the weekly report of the weather bureau.

The weakness in Liverpool was supposed to reflect prospects for another reduction in marine war risk insurance, following the raid on German submarine bases, and there were also rumors that a large amount of freight room had been allotted to the cotton trade for May shipment.

These rumors were not confirmed, but served to check selling on the decline abroad, and prices worked about 5 to 12 points net higher after the call. July sold up from 28.60c to 28.82c and October from 27.58c to 27.80c.

Later reports that the freight room allotted for May shipments to Liverpool would amount to only 90,000 bales were somewhat disappointing, and when the weekly report of the Weather Bureau failed to inspire fresh buying, the market turned easier under liquidation and Liverpool selling. July was relatively weak, breaking to 28.43c, or 34 points net lower, while October sold off to 27.50c, or 28 points below last night's close. The weekly weather reports read bullishly, indicating that farm work is behind normal in the northern part of the belt.

CORN MARKET FAILS TO HOLD EARLY RISE

Futures Show Uncertain Price Trend in the Late Trading; Oats Are Lower.

Wet weather, with low temperatures, gave buyers the advantage in the corn market here today, and futures averaged sharply higher in the early trading. Receipts here were 82,000 bu against 85,000 bu last year. Shipments totaled 138,000 bu against 46,000 bu. There was some selling in the late market and the early gains were lost. Teh closing was steady.

Oats futures were easy with corn, and sold a sharp fraction lower. Trade in the grain was light, however. Receipts here were 138,000 bu against 46,000 bu last year. Shipments were 397,000 bu against 113,000 bu.

The Price Current Grain Reporter says small grain crops have been sown at a seasonable time and under the most favorable conditions throughout the entire surplus grain producing territory. Rains have occurred generally so that the soil condition is favorable with the exception of a few scattered localities in each of the different states. The reports indicate an increase in acreage of corn in Ohio, but some loss compared with 1917 in all other states. Oats show material increase in all cases except in Nebraska and Oklahoma. The acreage under grass and to pastures generally shows slight decrease. The pig crop compared with last year shows increase in Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, Dakotas and Nebraska.

Bradstreet's shows world's supply of wheat decreased 2,352,000 bu last week; corn decreased 154,000 bu; oats increased 610,000 bu.

Clearances of wheat, corn and flour today none; oats 81,000 bu.

CHICAGO CORN HIGHER; OATS ARE FAIRLY STEADY

CHICAGO, April 24.—Strength developed in the corn market today as a result of falling off in arrivals from the country and owing to lack of offerings. It took but little buying to bring about a sharp advance. Favorable weather had only a transient bearish effect.

Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to ⅝c lower, with May, $1.27¼ and July $1.49⅝ to $1.49⅝, were followed by an upturn all around, especially in July.

Demand from the seaboard helped to lift the oats market. There was no pressure to sell. After opening a shade off to ¼c advance, prices scored material gains, with July at 75¼c and May 85⅝c.

Provisions averaged lower with hogs. Trade was chiefly in lard and ribs.

WAS Jack cool during the air raid the other night?"

"Rather! Why, he was so cool his teeth were chattering all the while." Reading Show.

The Real Difference.

THE Detroit Press tells of this conversation:

"I can't see why that man is boss over me. I do most of the work around here."

"I guess that is so."

"It is. I know more about the business than he does. Whenever he wants to know anything about what's going on he comes to me to find out."

"That's usually the way."

"I'm the fellow that ought to be the boss."

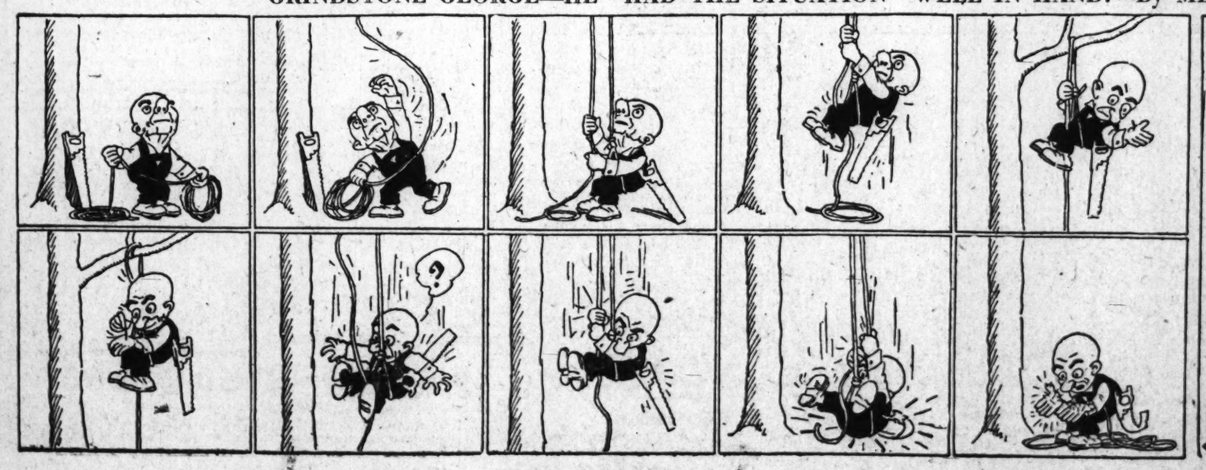

"A lot of men think that way, and yet there's one big difference. He knows something that you don't know."

"What is it?"

"He knows enough to hire good men like you to do the work. If you knew that you'd be the boss and he'd be in your place."

"Slapping a man on the back will not bring about the universal brotherhood of man," opines the Toledo Blade. But for that matter neither will punching him on the point of the jaw or blowing him to pieces at 10 miles' range.—Milwaukee News.
